Elmer Zeivel, 43, of 2316 Bluebird Ln., Rolling Meadows, returned to the accident scene after he was driven home by a friend about 5:15 p.m. Zeivel, who was charged with unsafe equipment, told police he was placing something in a tool bag when the car struck the guide wire to a utility pole and flipped on its top.

Golf course studied tonight

Plans for a golf course at the Nike Base and modification of Hasbrook Park flood control basin will be considered tonight by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The plans will be presented as recommendations by the Citizens' Action Committee Against Flooding. Both projects, with flood control capabilities, are expected to carry a total price tag of about $1.5 million, although details of the financing have not been worked out.

The golf course, Lochland Links, will be designed with a chain of lakes that will double as water hazards for golfers and protection against flooding of the Surrey Ridge West subdivision, said David Gill, golf course architect.

The course design was a compromise between Gill and the village's flood control engineers, Stanley Consultants.

FAIRWAYS OF the course will be flooded by overflows from the lakes during heavy rains. The tees and putting greens will be elevated so that they will remain dry.

Stanley Consultants, using the plans Gill presented to the committee last week, will prepare detailed construction drawings and prepare cost estimates for grading the 52-acre site. If the plans are approved and financing details agreed upon, construction could begin next spring.

The golf course will be on Nike Base land donated to the Arlington Heights Park District. The district has estimated the cost of the course at about $1 million.

Surrey Ridge West, adjacent to the Nike Base, was severely flooded during a "100-year rain" in 1972. Homeowners were paid $310,000 in damage compensation by the U.S. Small Business Administration after the 1972 flood.

PLANS FOR A $409,000 redesigning of the Hasbrook Park pond, approved by the flood committee, also will be presented to the village board.

The new cost estimate is double the original $192,000 budgeted for the project. Federal revenue sharing funds will be used by the village for the work.

The biggest cost increase in the project is $145,000 to build a storm sewer at Thomas Street and Walnut Avenue. The sewer will correct flooding problems for 10 houses in the area.

Another $76,000 was added to the project by the committee for automatic control that will regulate the release of stormwater from the pond.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the municipal building, 33 Arlington Heights Rd.

Harper bond issue campaign stepped up

by WANDALYN RICE

Campaigners for Harper College's $12 million bond referendum plan to contact at least 15,000 persons to explain the issues in Saturday's vote.

So far during the campaign, the college has collected endorsements from the village boards of Arlington Heights, Wheeling and Buffalo Grove. Officials in those communities have expressed the belief that the college's plans for a second campus in that area would benefit residents of their communities.

In addition to $2,106,000 to purchase 117 acres at Palatine and Schoenbeck roads for the second campus, the referendum campaign contains $7,050,000 for completion of building on the college's Palatine campus and $2,885,500 for building on the second campus.

The bond issue would mean an average tax increase of about $2 a year for a house with a $10,000 equalized assessed value, according to college officials. The largest increase would be about $4.42 a year for a $10,000 house in 1977 and would steadily decline until the bonds are paid off in 20 years.

AS PART OF the college campaign, volunteers are being organized to man telephone chains on election day which would remind voters to go to the polls. Marilyn Marier, an Arlington Heights resident and former member of the Harper board, has been organizing volunteers. "People in my area have been very receptive to the idea of the second campus," Mrs. Marier said.

Organized opposition to the Harper referendum has not been apparent to Harper campaigners, although some potential voters express skepticism about the issue.

In Palatine, however, at least one person will be actively urging a "no" vote Saturday, however. Edward Louis, 645 Wren, Palatine, a precinct captain for the Palatine Republican Party, said he plans to distribute flyers in his precinct next week urging voters to oppose the referendum because the package would authorize funds to build on the second campus.

Louis said he is printing 250 flyers at his own expense and that his action was not part of a wider anti-referendum effort. "Whenever an issue comes up I like to keep people informed about it," he said.

College officials said that in campaign meetings, voters frequently ask questions about the college's enrollment projections which forecast a

Parks to review Prairie Farm plans

The Arlington Heights Park Board will review final plans tonight for the Prairie Farm and Garden Park project with architectural representatives of Preservation Urban Design Inc.

The meeting will be at Frontier Park, 1933 N. Kennicott Ave., at 7:30 p.m.

If the park board approves the final plans, a replica of a late 1800s family farm will be erected at Prairie Park, northeast of Arlington Heights and Golf roads.

Thomas Thornton, park district director, said bids are being taken for the planting and leveling of the 10-acre site. The park could ultimately spread over 25 to 30 acres.

THE MAJOR CONSTRUCTION of the Bicentennial project is expected to begin next spring and will not be completed until 1977, he said.

The proposed project has been given poor reception by residents who live near the site on the southeast corner of Belmont Avenue and Foster Street because of flooding, noise and air pollution that the project could bring to the area.

The "living farm" will include buildings like a farm house and barn, a limited collection of farm animals and plants and farm equipment.

Two rob, beat Mount Prospect man

A Mount Prospect man told police early Sunday he was beaten and robbed of $25 by two men in downtown Arlington Heights Saturday night.

Louis Magana, 20, of 2096 Algonquin Rd., reported he was attacked while leaving his auto about 9 p.m. in a parking lot at 202 N. Dunton Ave. One of the two men struck him on the head with a stick, and the other struck him from behind before Magana lost consciousness, he told police.

He reported when he revived, he noticed the pair had taken his wallet, containing the cash and identification papers. He drove home and then reported the robbery about 10 hours after it occurred, Police said. Magana was not hospitalized.

Suburban schools at turning point

by KATHERINE BOYCE

Schools in the Northwest suburbs have reached a turning point.

For years the schools of suburbia have been geared toward expansion. As the tentacles of population growth in the Chicago metropolitan area spread northwest more and more bright young faces appeared at the doors of local schools. The growth in population meant more state funds, bigger budgets, more teachers and new schools.

Those days are over.

Many Northwest suburban schools are now in the midst of a dramatic decline in enrollment, which is occurring much in the same fashion as the growth of a few years ago. Those communities that were settled first — Des Plaines, Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights — are now experiencing the largest drop in enrollment. Newer communities, such as Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates, continue to grow but at a slower rate.

THE DECLINE in enrollment spells trouble for school districts. It means a decrease in state aid, which is largely based on attendance. It means a period of belt tightening in school budgets. It means fewer teaching jobs. It means that some neighborhood schools will be closed.

Gregory School was closed to Mount Prospect Dist. 57 students this fall. A five-year projection written by the Dist. 57 board and admistration last year shows a financial deficit of $479,000 by the 1977-78 school year brought on by plummeting enrollment figures.

Last year's projection showed that enrollment in Dist. 57 would drop to 2,135 students by the 1979-80 school year. This year enrollment dropped 6 per cent to an enrollment of 2,893. The kindergarten enrollment this year, 284 students, is a fraction of the size of the eighth grade class of 441 students.

The possibility of closing Gregory School drew an outcry from parents. The scene may be repeated this year in Dist. 57. The board recently launched another study to determine whether it must close another school.

Firemen and paramedics rush victim to hospital

Area crash kills 2; injures 4 on Rte. 83

Two persons were killed and four others seriously injured about 7:25 p.m. in a two-car crash on Ill. Rt. 83 at the Northwest Tollway overpass, police reported. Police said the accident occurred when a northbound Chevrolet apparently jumped the median, spun around and a southbound Datsun crashed into the back of the other vehicle. Only one man was identified. William Davis, 60, Hermosa Beach, Calif., a passenger in the Datsun was taken to Alexian Brother's Hospital, suffering from multiple fractures of the head. His wife was pronounced dead on arrival at Alexian, and the driver of the car was taken to Northwest Community Hospital. Another woman, who was in the Chevrolet was pronounced dead at Northwest Community Hospital. Two others, who were in the Chevrolet also were transported to Alexian Brothers. Paramedics and firemen from Elk Grove Village and Mount Prospect Departments responded to the call. Police reported Mount Prospect firemen hosed down gas from the roadway.

Boy hangs self in 'prank'

A 12-year-old Schaumburg boy, Robert Kelly, 629 Crandell Ln., died Saturday night after accidentally hanging himself in the family home, police said. Transported by a Schaumburg Fire Dept. ambulance, he was pronounced dead on arrival at Alexian Brothers Medical Center, Elk Grove Village. Police reported the boy accidentally hung himself about 7:15 p.m. on a rope used to suspend an air-hockey game. He reportedly was apparently trying to play a prank on his brother. The body was taken to the County Morgue in Chicago, where an autopsy and inquest is pending.

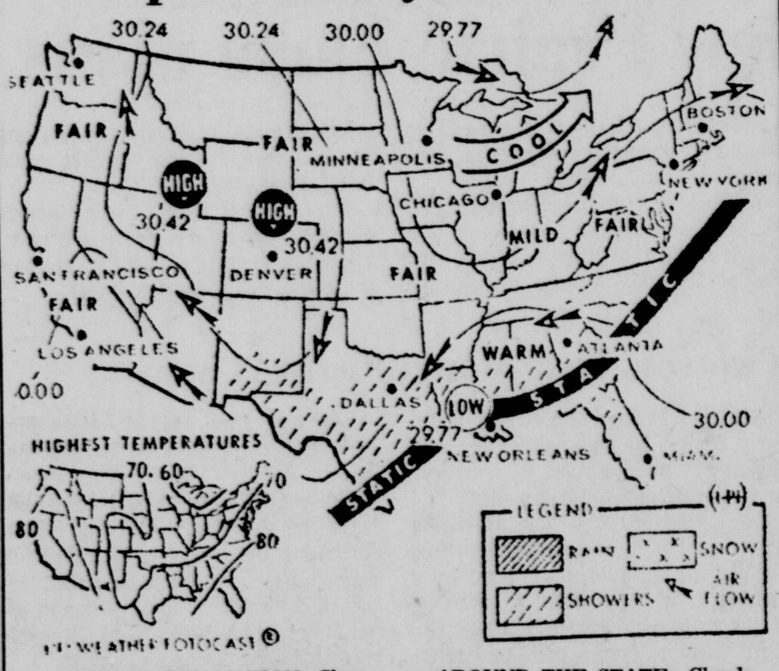
Area waste system weighed

Larry Hardin, of the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, will present a report on a regional solid waste disposal system at a meeting of the Northwest Environmental Council at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Arlington Heights Municipal Building. The council is composed of officials from 15 area communities, including Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows and Wheeling. It is expected communities involved in the project will be asked to study the idea of a regional system individually. Philip Lindahl, Des Plaines, an NEC official, said some experts believe such a system of refuse disposal could be used to operate an efficient power plant.

Teachers seek public support

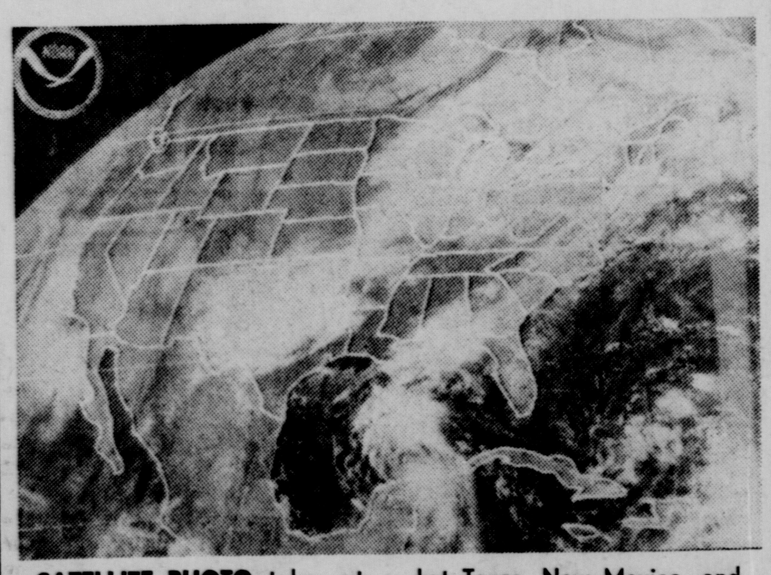
Teachers in Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 braved chilly weather to pass out leaflets at area shopping centers, during the weekend seeking support in their contract negotiations with board of education. The leaflets stated, "School teachers of Dist. 15 received first rating in a State of Illinois evaluation. Yet Dist. 15's board risks losing these excellent people. We have no contract. Most of the teachers reported they received "warm responses" from residents. The next negotiation session is set for Tuesday.

Crisp fall day ahead...



AROUND THE NATION: Showers and thunderstorms are forecast from southern New Mexico across Texas and the Gulf Coast region. Fair skies will dominate the rest of the country.

AROUND THE STATE: Cloudy with chance of showers extreme south, partly sunny and warmer elsewhere; high in 60s. Tonight fair and cool.



SATELLITE PHOTO taken at noon Sunday shows low clouds continuing to spread over the Great Lakes region, while broken frontal clouds stretch from Maine to Florida. Heavy clouds also blanket Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma. Tropical storm Eloise, centered at northern Yucatan, spreads thunderstorms across the central Gulf.

Harper officials to get out the vote

continuing increase in students. In addition, voters frequently ask why the college needs a second campus when elementary and high schools which may close because of declining enrollments in those schools could provide space for college programs.

College officials say they think their enrollment projections are correct, even though the number of students in high school and elementary school are going down, because most Harper students are adults. The average student age at Harper is 27 and only 25 per cent of the student body is expected to come to the college directly from high school, they say.

COLLEGE OFFICIALS take several different tacks in answering the question about why they can't use abandoned elementary and high schools. "The message we are trying to get across is that high school facilities are not available. High School Dist. 214 has said they will not be giving up any building for at least five years," said a college spokesman.

In addition, he said, elementary and junior high schools which may close in the next few years probably will not be near the proposed second campus, the area where college figures indicate the greatest demand for the second campus.

College officials also cite the expense of converting space in elementary schools to college use, particularly for college vocational courses as a roadblock to that solution to increased enrollments. "It is expensive to convert buildings when you get into lab space," College Vice President Guerin Fischer said to a group recently. "Also when you rent space, it is difficult to plan on a long-term basis."

Harper College officials plan to meet with various civic organizations this week to explain the issues.

Meetings this week are:

Today

- President's Roundtable, Buffalo Grove Village Hall, 8 p.m.

Tuesday

- Kingswalk Apartment Community Center, Euclid Avenue and Meacham Rd., Rolling Meadows, 8 p.m.
- Hoffman Estates League of Women Voters, Nieman and Sons Gallery of Homes, Higgins and Spring Mill Rd., Hoffman Estates.

Wednesday

- Juliette Low School PTA, 1530 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, 8 p.m.

Thursday

- Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 PTA Council, 505 S. Quentin Rd., Palatine, noon.
- Palatine Jaycees board, 117 W. Slade St., Palatine, 8 p.m.

Three youths arrested for drug theft

Arlington Heights police arrested three burglary suspects for a break-in at a doctor's office during the weekend, police said.

Three Wheeling Township youths were arrested early Saturday in connection with a burglary at Dr. Hayward Foy's office, 203 S. Arlington Heights Rd., in which drugs were taken, police reported.

Charged with burglary were Brian R. Locke, and Michael J. Brancato, both 17, of 18 E. Willow, and a 16-year-old juvenile.

Police said they arrested Brancato and the juvenile about 3:50 a.m. near the burglary scene.

Locke was arrested a couple hours later after he walked into the police station to ask for a ride home, police reported.

Outside Dr. Foy's office, police found about $280 worth of barbiturates and amphetamines taken during the break-in, police said.

Brancato was released after posting $2,000 bond, and Locke was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond. Both are scheduled to appear Oct. 24 in the Arlington Heights branch of Circuit Court. The juvenile was released to the custody of his parents.

Police probe theft of '74 Oldsmobile

Arlington Heights police are investigating the theft Saturday night of a 1974 Oldsmobile from a parking lot at the Stonebridge Hill apartments.

Cecelia Rudis, Chicago, told police the $4,500 auto was stolen sometime between 7 and 10:30 p.m. while she was visiting her parents. The vehicle was brown with a tan vinyl roof.

Two persons were killed and four others seriously injured about 7:25 p.m. in a two-car crash on Ill. Rt. 83 at the Northwest Tollway overpass, police reported. Police said the accident occurred when a northbound Chevrolet apparently jumped the median, spun around and a southbound Datsun crashed into the back of the other vehicle. Only one man was identified. William Davis, 60, Hermosa Beach, Calif., a passenger in the Datsun was taken to Alexian Brother's Hospital, suffering from multiple fractures of the head. His wife was pronounced dead on arrival at Alexian, and the driver of the car was taken to Northwest Community Hospital. Another woman, who was in the Chevrolet was pronounced dead at Northwest Community Hospital. Two others, who were in the Chevrolet also were transported to Alexian Brothers. Paramedics and firemen from Elk Grove Village and Mount Prospect Departments responded to the call. Police reported Mount Prospect firemen hosed down gas from the roadway.

Boy hangs self in 'prank'

A 12-year-old Schaumburg boy, Robert Kelly, 629 Crandell Ln., died Saturday night after accidentally hanging himself in the family home, police said. Transported by a Schaumburg Fire Dept. ambulance, he was pronounced dead on arrival at Alexian Brothers Medical Center, Elk Grove Village. Police reported the boy accidentally hung himself about 7:15 p.m. on a rope used to suspend an air-hockey game. He reportedly was apparently trying to play a prank on his brother. The body was taken to the County Morgue in Chicago, where an autopsy and inquest is pending.

Area waste system weighed

Larry Hardin, of the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality, will present a report on a regional solid waste disposal system at a meeting of the Northwest Environmental Council at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Arlington Heights Municipal Building. The council is composed of officials from 15 area communities, including Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows and Wheeling. It is expected communities involved in the project will be asked to study the idea of a regional system individually. Philip Lindahl, Des Plaines, an NEC official, said some experts believe such a system of refuse disposal could be used to operate an efficient power plant.

Teachers seek public support

Teachers in Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15 braved chilly weather to pass out leaflets at area shopping centers, during the weekend seeking support in their contract negotiations with board of education. The leaflets stated, "School teachers of Dist. 15 received first rating in a State of Illinois evaluation. Yet Dist. 15's board risks losing these excellent people. We have no contract. Most of the teachers reported they received "warm responses" from residents. The next negotiation session is set for Tuesday.

Harper officials to get out the vote

continuing increase in students. In addition, voters frequently ask why the college needs a second campus when elementary and high schools which may close because of declining enrollments in those schools could provide space for college programs.

College officials say they think their enrollment projections are correct, even though the number of students in high school and elementary school are going down, because most Harper students are adults. The average student age at Harper is 27 and only 25 per cent of the student body is expected to come to the college directly from high school, they say.

COLLEGE OFFICIALS take several different tacks in answering the question about why they can't use abandoned elementary and high schools. "The message we are trying to get across is that high school facilities are not available. High School Dist. 214 has said they will not be giving up any building for at least five years," said a college spokesman.

In addition, he said, elementary and junior high schools which may close in the next few years probably will not be near the proposed second campus, the area where college figures indicate the greatest demand for the second campus.

College officials also cite the expense of converting space in elementary schools to college use, particularly for college vocational courses as a roadblock to that solution to increased enrollments. "It is expensive to convert buildings when you get into lab space," College Vice President Guerin Fischer said to a group recently. "Also when you rent space, it is difficult to plan on a long-term basis."

Harper College officials plan to meet with various civic organizations this week to explain the issues.

Meetings this week are:

- President's Roundtable, Buffalo Grove Village Hall, 8 p.m.

Tuesday

Three youths arrested for drug theft

Arlington Heights police arrested three burglary suspects for a break-in at a doctor's office during the weekend, police said.

Three Wheeling Township youths were arrested early Saturday in connection with a burglary at Dr. Hayward Foy's office, 203 S. Arlington Heights Rd., in which drugs were taken, police reported.

Charged with burglary were Brian R. Locke, and Michael J. Brancato, both 17, of 18 E. Willow, and a 16-year-old juvenile.

Police said they arrested Brancato and the juvenile about 3:50 a.m. near the burglary scene.

Locke was arrested a couple hours later after he walked into the police station to ask for a ride home, police reported.

Outside Dr. Foy's office, police found about $280 worth of barbiturates and amphetamines taken during the break-in, police said.

Brancato was released after posting $2,000 bond, and Locke was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond. Both are scheduled to appear Oct. 24 in the Arlington Heights branch of Circuit Court. The juvenile was released to the custody of his parents.

Coastal states gear for 'Scotland' influenza attack

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A new influenza virus — the A-Scotland strain — is expected to reach the United States this winter, infecting from 10 to 20 per cent of the population.

Coastal states with major ports and airports of entry are always the first to be affected by flu strains from abroad and California is among the first to take precautions. The state's Department of Health feels it is as well prepared for A-Scotland as it was the Port Chalmers strain which hit America last year.

California had a total of 700,000 doses of vaccine on hand to combat the Port Chalmers virus, named for the location in New Zealand where it was first isolated, but only 400,000 doses were used. Dr. James Chinn, chief of the Communicable Disease section of the health department, said a vaccine has been developed for A-Scotland and will be available.

"When a new virus develops we try to develop a vaccine for it and get it to the population before it circulates," Chinn said. "But sometimes we can't beat the virus to the people."

A-Scotland is not expected to be pandemic in the United States — that is, affecting nearly half the population — but it is serious, particularly to the elderly, according to state and federal health authorities.

They point out the disease can be fatal to older persons and to those with chronic medical problems, especially respiratory ailments. The A-Scotland strain, like the Port Chalmers strain of last year, will be no more dangerous to young children than to normally healthy adults.

Dr. Jerome Lackner, state health director, said the threat to life and health from influenza "is much worse than the sting of a needle.

"The flu bug can kill. No flu shot has," he said.

Because the strain is new, just about everyone who has not been vaccinated is susceptible. The doctors said an adult in normal health can expect to be ill for the better part of a week with the disease. Sometimes the flu will develop into pneumonia or other respiratory complications before the victim seeks medical help.

"By then it's too late either to diagnose or to worry about the original illnes," Lackner said.

Flu affects more Americans during an average winter than is generally known. For instance, more than a million Californians usually complain of flu, and in a bad year half the population, or about 10 million persons, may suffer some symptoms. How much illness is due to genuine influenza is not known, because doctors are not required to report influenza as they do other communicable diseases.

The California Health Department is going to provide flu shots free at health offices to older persons and those with chronic ailments such as heart disease, respiratory problems and diabetes.

The state has purchased vaccine containing all of the flu types which may cause disease this season, Dr. Lackner said, and it can be expected to be 70 to 80 per cent effective against the viruses.

Zarb acts to head off potential shortage

Import tariff on refined oil eliminated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Acting to head off a potential heating oil shortage this winter, Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb Sunday announced immediate elimination of a bitterly opposed import tariff on refined petroleum products.

Cutting off the 60-cent per barrel fee will mean a rapid saving for consumers in New England, Florida and parts of California who depend heavily on imported fuel oil, he said.

Zarb said President Ford will decide by the end of this month whether to also stop charging a $2 per barrel fee on the 5.6 million barrels of crude oil the United States imports each day.

In the meantime, he said, the FEA will collect from the nation's oil companies some $500 million in import fees on to their customers, Zarb said, administration deferred last month while waiting to see what would happen to the domestic oil price control law.

The companies already have passed the impact of the July and August fees on to their customers, Zarb said, and failure to collect from the companies now would mean either an undesirable industry windfall or the necessity for a complex rebate program.

Zarb also said the administration is considering a recommendation to sharply slow down the approach to President Ford's goal of producing 1 million barrels of synthetic oil a day by 1985, although no decisions have been made.

An interagency task force has recommended starting with a goal of 350,000 barrels a day produced from coal and oil shale, Zarb told UPI. The proposal says that "first bite" goal could be scaled up toward Ford's initial target, he said, as the market potential and the technical capacity of a complex new industry are demonstrated.

The three import tariff decisions announced by Zarb in an unusual Sunday briefing were the latest steps in the administration's nine-month energy policy battle with Congress.

Although Zarb said elimination of the 60-cent per barrel tariff on refined products was not politically motivated, it could help the administration win over New England legislators who opposed the tariff because their constituents depend heavily on foreign heating oil.

Zarb said he is suspending the 60 cent tariff effective Sept. 1 regardless of whether Congress reinstates domestic oil price controls. He said his action could lower consumer prices for foreign-produced heating oil 1.5 cents a gallon by late October.

Some importers have held back on ordering fuel oil for this winter, waiting to see if the fee will be eliminated, Zarb said. Those who bought fuel while the fee was in effect would find themselves at a competitive disadvantage with those who waited until it was lifted.

Failure to resolve that matter immediately, Zarb said, "might result in inadequate heating oil stocks to last through an unusually cold winter."

Collection of the $500 million in back fees from the oil companies grew out of administration attempts last month to guess what might happen if the price control law expired Aug. 31, letting domestic prices rise.

Patty may take witness stand on bail issue

Patricia Hearst may be called to the witness stand in court this week to try to change the mind of a federal judge who so far has refused her release on bail because he feels she might flee again, it was disclosed Sunday. Miss Hearst spent a quiet Sunday in a 6-by-16 foot cell in the San Mateo County jail. Sheriff John McDonald said that "boredom is her chief problem."

The FBI said there had been no new developments in the nationwide hunt for two sisters, Kathy and Josephine Soliah, suspected of having been part of an underground network that provided Miss Hearst and the Harrises shelter during the past 19 months and provided them with weapons.

Panel probes CIA-monitored Oswald talks

The Senate Intelligence Committee is studying carefully reports the CIA secretly monitored conversations between Lee Harvey Oswald and Cuban and Soviet embassies in Mexico City two months before John M. Kennedy was assassinated, a spokesman said Sunday. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the slain president's younger brother, was scheduled to testify before the senate Committee in closed session Monday afternoon.

Eloise appears to be reorganizing

Tropical Storm Eloise, once a hurricane, veered back over the open waters of the Gulf of Mexico Sunday and hurricane forecasters said it appeared to be reorganizing with conditions favorable for gradual strengthening. Eloise crossed the coast of Yucatan only hours earlier but the steering currents which guide a tropical storm's direction were weak and instead of continuing over land, it moved back out to sea where it has greater opportunity to strengthen.

No progress in National Airlines talks

Negotiators for National Airlines and its striking flight attendants spent 12 hours at the bargaining table Saturday and early Sunday, but a union spokesman said no progress was made toward ending a three-week-old walkout. If Sunday's talks fail to reach a strike-ending agreement, the bargaining was expected to break off Monday.

Nixon lawyers go to court on tape rights

Richard M. Nixon's lawyers go to court Monday to challenge the government's right to keep 42 million pages of White House papers and 888 reels of tapes from his control. Nixon's lawyers will tangle with lawyers for the government and intervening historians, writers and columnists in a debate over the constitutionality of the Congressional Act keeping the material in government custody.

'Squeaky' hearing Tuesday on defense plan

Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme returns to court Tuesday for a hearing on whether she is competent to defend herself against charges she attempted to assassinate President Ford. U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride ordered a psychiatric report for the 26-year-old member of the Charles Manson sex and drug cult after she pleaded innocent to the charge and asked permission to represent herself.

Teachers in Boston vote to strike

BOSTON (UPI) — Boston teachers Sunday voted to strike, ignoring a state court injunction and jeopardizing continued implementation of court ordered desegration.

The Boston Teachers Union, which earlier this month rescinded a no-contract, no-work policy to allow federally ordered school integration to begin, voted overwhelmingly to strike.

If the schools are closed, about 4,900 teachers and 84,000 schoolchildren would be affected.

Boston school authorities and the teachers union continued around the clock negotiations.

The Boston School Committee refused to speculate on whether it would order the schools closed if the walkout occurred. Sources said closing of the schools seemed the likely alternative, but the existence of the federal integration order might mean U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity, who ordered the busing plan, might have to be consulted on the matter.

Last week he declined to issue a temporary restraining order against the strike, although a state court issued such an injunction.

BILL STRAUCH of Ann Arbor, Mich. goes to trial Wednesday to fight for his right to walk his pet, Rojo the Rooster, on a leash. Strauch's neighbors are fed up with Rojo's crowing spree that begins each morning at 6:30 sharp. The Ann Arbor mental health technician said "Rojo is my friend and I don't intend to give him up." Strauch is charged with violating a city law that prohibits animals or domestic fowl within the city unless commonly classified as pets.

Israel delays formal Sinai signing

by United Press International

Israel announced Sunday it will only initial and not formally sign and implement the final document of the interim peace pact with Egypt Monday, until Congress approves the dispatch of American civilian technicians to Sinai.

Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam said that Syria will refuse to talk directly to Egypt as long as the new Sinai agreement remains in effect. He said President Anwar Sadat must renounce the accord with Israel before Cairo can hold "any talks on any level" with Damascus.

The Damascus newspaper Al Baath published an article by Defense Minister Maj. Gen. Mustafa Tlas which urged Egypt to cancel the accord so "Arab troops would cross Sinai, the Golan and Palestine and hurl this humiliating agreement into the dark corners of history."

In Cairo, Egyptian Premier Mamdouh Salem defended the peace pact at a meeting of trade union leaders and urged the Soviet Union to revise its policy toward Egypt and recognize Cairo's neutrality and independence. He said it was the only way Russia could maintain its friendship with Egypt.

In Jerusalem, it was announced the Israeli cabinet had instructed its three-man military delegation in Geneva only to initial the protocols Monday and not sign them until Congress approves the American presence between Israeli and Egyptian troops.

Only upon signing of the protocols, which set forth the timetable of the Israeli withdrawal in Sinai, can implementation of the interim pact begin.

"Upon completion of the agreed draft protocol, the Israeli delegation will initial it for the purpose of identifying the full agreed draft," a cabinet communique said.

"Israeli representatives will sign the protocol with full signatures immediately following approval by the Congress of the United States for American presence in the buffer zone as agreed upon by the sides," it said.

The London Sunday Telegraph reported that Libya is receiving massive supplies of Soviet weapons and Russians to man them in what could make that country the Soviet Union's main Mediterranean base.

Israeli reports, meantime, said Jerusalem bowed to a U.S. request not to send the first Israel-bound cargo through the Suez Canal at this time because it would put more pressure on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat from Arab extremists. The interim pact provides for canal transit of non-military Israeli cargo in non-Israeli ships.

A Greek ship carrying 7,000 tons of cement and 75 tractors from Romania to Israel was rerouted to Haifa instead of going through the canal to Eilat, Israel's Red Sea port.

New tax bill could squeak through Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new tax bill may squeak through Congress in a few weeks, aided by the desire of almost every politician in Washington to continue the individual tax reductions that left the voters a little less poor this year.

"Reform" is too strong a word for what is likely to emerge from Congress. But unless the House Ways and Means Committee's decisions are reversed, a small step may be taken toward tax equity.

The committee is writing the bill on a schedule so tight that one day's delay could leave too little time for the House and Senate to act before the end of the year.

The committee is to send a final bill to the House on Oct. 23. Chairman Al Ullman wants to meet that date to avoid last year's disaster, when a massive tax bill died in the final weeks of Congress after months of committee work.

Saved for the final week is a decision on continuing the individual tax cuts passed earlier this year to stimulate the economy. If nothing is done before the end of the year, almost everyone's tax withholding rate will rise Jan. 1.

President Ford has not decided whether to ask Congress to continue the tax reductions, regarded as popular with taxpayers, but it seems certain Congress will do so whatever Ford says.

Elsewhere in Congress this week:

• The Senate faces a possible filibuster in a battle over whether to whittle away the financial club HEW uses to force school integration through busing. The legislation would end use of Housing, Education and Welfare threats to cut federal school aid as a means of forcing communities to bus students for achieving racial desegregation.

• Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott urged swift Congressional action on extension of oil price controls. Scott said the Senate should, as its first order of business, approve an extension and then seek "some common ground" with President Ford on energy policy.

Patty may take witness stand on bail issue

Patricia Hearst may be called to the witness stand in court this week to try to change the mind of a federal judge who so far has refused her release on bail because he feels she might flee again, it was disclosed Sunday. Miss Hearst spent a quiet Sunday in a 6-by-16 foot cell in the San Mateo County jail. Sheriff John McDonald said that "boredom is her chief problem."

The FBI said there had been no new developments in the nationwide hunt for two sisters, Kathy and Josephine Soliah, suspected of having been part of an underground network that provided Miss Hearst and the Harrises shelter during the past 19 months and provided them with weapons.

Panel probes CIA-monitored Oswald talks

The Senate Intelligence Committee is studying carefully reports the CIA secretly monitored conversations between Lee Harvey Oswald and Cuban and Soviet embassies in Mexico City two months before John M. Kennedy was assassinated, a spokesman said Sunday. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the slain president's younger brother, was scheduled to testify before the senate Committee in closed session Monday afternoon.

Eloise appears to be reorganizing

Tropical Storm Eloise, once a hurricane, veered back over the open waters of the Gulf of Mexico Sunday and hurricane forecasters said it appeared to be reorganizing with conditions favorable for gradual strengthening. Eloise crossed the coast of Yucatan only hours earlier but the steering currents which guide a tropical storm's direction were weak and instead of continuing over land, it moved back out to sea where it has greater opportunity to strengthen.

No progress in National Airlines talks

Negotiators for National Airlines and its striking flight attendants spent 12 hours at the bargaining table Saturday and early Sunday, but a union spokesman said no progress was made toward ending a three-week-old walkout. If Sunday's talks fail to reach a strike-ending agreement, the bargaining was expected to break off Monday.

Nixon lawyers go to court on tape rights

Richard M. Nixon's lawyers go to court Monday to challenge the government's right to keep 42 million pages of White House papers and 888 reels of tapes from his control. Nixon's lawyers will tangle with lawyers for the government and intervening historians, writers and columnists in a debate over the constitutionality of the Congressional Act keeping the material in government custody.

'Squeaky' hearing Tuesday on defense plan

Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme returns to court Tuesday for a hearing on whether she is competent to defend herself against charges she attempted to assassinate President Ford. U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride ordered a psychiatric report for the 26-year-old member of the Charles Manson sex and drug cult after she pleaded innocent to the charge and asked permission to represent herself.

Israel delays formal Sinai signing

by United Press International

Israel announced Sunday it will only initial and not formally sign and implement the final document of the interim peace pact with Egypt Monday, until Congress approves the dispatch of American civilian technicians to Sinai.

Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam said that Syria will refuse to talk directly to Egypt as long as the new Sinai agreement remains in effect. He said President Anwar Sadat must renounce the accord with Israel before Cairo can hold "any talks on any level" with Damascus.

The Damascus newspaper Al Baath published an article by Defense Minister Maj. Gen. Mustafa Tlas which urged Egypt to cancel the accord so "Arab troops would cross Sinai, the Golan and Palestine and hurl this humiliating agreement into the dark corners of history."

In Cairo, Egyptian Premier Mamdouh Salem defended the peace pact at a meeting of trade union leaders and urged the Soviet Union to revise its policy toward Egypt and recognize Cairo's neutrality and independence. He said it was the only way Russia could maintain its friendship with Egypt.

In Jerusalem, it was announced the Israeli cabinet had instructed its three-man military delegation in Geneva only to initial the protocols Monday and not sign them until Congress approves the American presence between Israeli and Egyptian troops.

Only upon signing of the protocols, which set forth the timetable of the Israeli withdrawal in Sinai, can implementation of the interim pact begin.

"Upon completion of the agreed draft protocol, the Israeli delegation will initial it for the purpose of identifying the full agreed draft," a cabinet communique said.

"Israeli representatives will sign the protocol with full signatures immediately following approval by the Congress of the United States for American presence in the buffer zone as agreed upon by the sides," it said.

The London Sunday Telegraph reported that Libya is receiving massive supplies of Soviet weapons and Russians to man them in what could make that country the Soviet Union's main Mediterranean base.

Israeli reports, meantime, said Jerusalem bowed to a U.S. request not to send the first Israel-bound cargo through the Suez Canal at this time because it would put more pressure on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat from Arab extremists. The interim pact provides for canal transit of non-military Israeli cargo in non-Israeli ships.

A Greek ship carrying 7,000 tons of cement and 75 tractors from Romania to Israel was rerouted to Haifa instead of going through the canal to Eilat, Israel's Red Sea port.

New tax bill could squeak through Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new tax bill may squeak through Congress in a few weeks, aided by the desire of almost every politician in Washington to continue the individual tax reductions that left the voters a little less poor this year.

"Reform" is too strong a word for what is likely to emerge from Congress. But unless the House Ways and Means Committee's decisions are reversed, a small step may be taken toward tax equity.

The committee is writing the bill on a schedule so tight that one day's delay could leave too little time for the House and Senate to act before the end of the year.

The committee is to send a final bill to the House on Oct. 23. Chairman Al Ullman wants to meet that date to avoid last year's disaster, when a massive tax bill died in the final weeks of Congress after months of committee work.

Saved for the final week is a decision on continuing the individual tax cuts passed earlier this year to stimulate the economy. If nothing is done before the end of the year, almost everyone's tax withholding rate will rise Jan. 1.

President Ford has not decided whether to ask Congress to continue the tax reductions, regarded as popular with taxpayers, but it seems certain Congress will do so whatever Ford says.

Elsewhere in Congress this week:

- The Senate faces a possible filibuster in a battle over whether to whittle away the financial club HEW uses to force school integration through busing. The legislation would end use of Housing, Education and Welfare threats to cut federal school aid as a means of forcing communities to bus students for achieving racial desegregation.
- Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott urged swift Congressional action on extension of oil price controls. Scott said the Senate should, as its first order of business, approve an extension and then seek "some common ground" with President Ford on energy policy.

Ford vows to guard against 'Big Brother'

- President Ford lofted golf balls through the sunshine of California Sunday, then resumed his speechmaking. In an address for dedication ceremonies at Stanford University Law School, Ford pledged to "protect every individual from excessive and unnecessary intrusion by a Big Brother bureaucracy." An honorary doctor of laws degree was conferred on him at the ceremonies.
- Allen Wooten made his 79th jump from a Cessna Saturday, but said Sunday from his hospital room it may have been his last. The 22-year-old chemist plunged 4,500 feet to the ground when his main parachute failed and his reserve chute became entangled. He survived thanks to some trees and a large mud puddle in the woods below. Wooten emerged with only two fractured vertebrae, and a few bruises. The jump was part of a benefit for the Stony Creek, N.C. Rescue Squad.
- A cheering crowd of more than 500 persons turned out Sunday to welcome astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand and Donald K. Slayton to Star City, USSR, where the Americans prepared for their joint Apollo-Soyuz flight two months ago. The astronauts and their families are in the Soviet Union for a 10-day tour with Cosmonauts Alexei A. Leonov and Valeri N. Kubasov. The cosmonauts will tour the United States later.
- Former British Prime Minister Edward Heath has concluded a visit to China including a meeting with Chairman Mao Tse-tung — and left for Japan.

New teachers' union asks meeting

Special education teachers at Kirk Center and Gregory School for handicapped chidren have requested a meeting with the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization governing board to clear up the question of recognition of the teachers' new union.

Thomas Schwartz, president of the teachers' union, said union members voted unanimously to send a resolution to members of the governing board requesting a meeting "to hear the concerns of the teachers and explain why the governing board has decided to refuse us the same rights and privileges enjoyed by other teachers in our member districts."

Teachers in the 10-district cooperative organized last spring and affiliated with the Illinois Education Assn. The union asked the governing board last spring for recognition as the sole bargaining agent for teachers.

On Sept. 13 the NSSEO board approved salary increases for teachers without recognizing or negotiating with the union. NSSEO Director Edward McDonald said the salary increases were needed and adopting the increase "does not impinge on our offer to meet with any organization that intends to represent teachers. We will consider them for the 1976-77 schedule."

THE TEACHERS' resolution states "we are totally dissatisfied with the actions taken by the board Sept. 13. We believe the rejection of our request for an election and recognition as well as the unilateral adoption of this year's salary schedule was an act of bad faith on the part of the board and a total disregard of commitments that were made by the board's representatives earlier in the year."

Schwartz said the union also is sending a resolution to McDonald asking him to put in writing whether he supports the right of teachers to collectively bargain salaries, fringe benefits and working conditions, whether he will recommend that the board approve teachers holding an election to choose their bargaining agent, and whether he will recommend that the board hold a special meeting to hear the concerns of teachers.

Schwartz said the union is interested in knowing where McDonald stands since he has influence on the board.

Schwartz said recognition and salary are the two issues to be settled. The board raised the base salary for special education teachers in the cooperative 11 per cent from $8,400 last year to $9,350 this year.

Schwartz said the 11 per cent figure is deceptive and that "seven or eight of us are frozen salary-wise this year and others are only receiving about $100 (a year)." This is the first year teachers have a regular salary schedule. Teachers were paid on a merit basis, receiving increases according to the recommendation of supervisors.

Suburban schools at turning point

Township Dist. 59 have much in common with their Mount Prospect neighbors. Enrollment in these districts also is shrinking, partcularly in the lower grades.

Enrollment in Dist. 26 dropped by 7.8 per cent this year to a total of 2,507 students and is expected to drop to 2,125 students by 1979-80.

CLOSING A SCHOOL is a possibility for the future, said Ralph Beaudoin, director of business affairs, "but we're nowhere near that. We're not crowded but we don't have empty classrooms. We have rather small classes, which has been a district goal."

The enrollment in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 peaked in 1969 with more than 10,000 students. Enrollment this year declined 5 per cent to a total of 8,024 students. The district has hired outside consultants to study the demographics of the community, and the impact of declining enrollment on finances and use of school buildings.

In Dist. 62 the enrollment declined 4.9 per cent this year. "There aren't any surprises. On the basis of our preschool census it indicates it will continue to decline," said Asst. Supt. Robert Reinke. The district will conduct another census of the preschool population to develop a five-year enrollment projection.

There are 262 fewer children in Dist. 63 this year, a decline of 4.5 per cent. "There is no rhyme or reason" for the decline, said Donald Stetina, assistant superintendent. for personnel. There is such a high turnover in families moving in and out of the community that enrollment is very difficult to predict. "Most people like to look for patterns but I'm afraid of running that kind of projection."

Dist. 59 predicts a 33 per cent decline in enrollment by the 1979-80 school year. It declined 2.6 per cent this year.

Enrollments remain fairly stable in Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Dist. 21, Prospect Heights Dist. 23 and Palatine-Rolling Meadows Dist. 15.

DIST. 21 DROPPED in enrollment by half a per cent this year and suffers a $1,000 drop in state aid for each student it loses. Some parts of the district still have potential for growth in population.

Dist. 15 had a .4 per cent drop in enrollment this year. Most of the decline is in the older sections of Palatine and Rolling Meadows but the district will gain more students from new or planned housing developments in the western and northeastern part of the district.

Dist. 23 had a surprising 3 per cent increase in enrollment this year from some of the newer housing developments in the district. Enrollment is expected to remain stable there for some time.

Since a drop in enrollment is first seen in the lower grade levels, the decline isn't felt immediately in the high schools.

Maine Township High School Dist. 207 had an increase of just 14 students this year, about .1 per cent. Enrollment should begin to decline next year.

High School Dist. 214 is the largest high school district in the state, with an enrollment of 19,823 students in eight high schools. Enrollment increased this year by 1.2 per cent. It's expected to "plateau" for two more years and then drop to 15,325 students by the 1982-83 school year, said William Reid, coordinator of research.

"WE'RE ON THE OTHER side of the hill," said Reid, and the district is studying the impact that a declining enrollment will have on the school budget and use of classroom space.

The decline in enrollment is attributed to many factors. In the older sections of the Northwest suburbs, housing is expensive and out of the price range of many younger families with children. In the newer sections, young families are putting off buying homes, and housing developers are delaying construction of subdivisions because of inflated construction prices.

But no one can deny that the decline in the birth rate throughout the country is a big factor in the drop in the school population. After World War II Illinois public school enrollment rose for 27 consecutive years reaching a peak in 1971 with 2.37 million students. By 1985, enrollment is projected to decline to 1.88 million students.

Those figures are contained in a statement to the Illinois House education subcommittee on school finance.

There are four Northwest suburban school districts for whom the situation is not so bleak. Enrollments are still rising in Buffalo Grove-Long Grove Dist. 96, High School Dist. 125, Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 and High School Dist. 211.

Dist. 96 is the only local school district that has a school standing empty waiting for the students to arrive. Enrollment increased 19 students, 1.6 per cent, this year and barring any major upsurge in the housing market it will continue to grow by 30 to 50 students per year. As more families move into the area and school enrollment rises, Kildeer School in Long Grove will open.

DIST. 96 STUDENTS will attend Dist. 125's Stevenson High School. Stevenson rose 8.6 per cent in enrollment this year and is projected to increase 8 to 10 per cent per year. Thirty-three new housing projects are planned in the area.

Schaumburg Township has experienced an amazing rate of growth. In 1956 Dist. 54 had an enrollment of 327 students. Today it has 17,052 students and is expected to gain 600 to 700 students per year for several more years. This year it added 719 students to its 27 schools.

But even in Dist. 54 declining enrollment is being felt. The increases have been smaller than projected mainly because "the housing units aren't selling quite as rapidly as they were five years ago," said Associate Supt. Milton Derr. The district had projected it would have 40,000 students in 40 schools by 1990 but some administrators now believe the figure will be lower.

Dist. 54's high school district, Dist. 211, shows a 5.3 per cent growth in enrollment this year, somewhat lower than the 9 per cent growth it has had for the past four or five years.

Enrollment is projected to grow for several more years as the district continues to gain more freshmen than it graduates as seniors. A new high school will open in 1977 in Palatine and an addition to Schaumburg High School will soon be constructed.

Dist. 211 already owns land for three more high schools, one in Palatine Township and two in Schaumburg Township. But seeing its neighbors to the east, Dist. 211 plans to take a long look at the future before it makes plans to build those schools.

Another baby boom predicted

Those of us who fear the human race is slowly becoming extinct should take heart. Researchers predict another baby boom already has begun.

Two California demographers, working with statistics from California, New York, Hawaii, Washington and Oregon, predict the fertility rate of the nation, which has been declining for several years, is now on the rise.

The fertility rate is the number of live births per 1,000 women between the child bearing ages of 15 and 44. The rate reached a peak in 1957 and a record low in 1973 with 69.2 births.

June Sklar of the University of California and Beth Berkov of the California State Dept. of Health revealed their statistics in a current issue of Science magazine. They conclude that the general decline in the fertility rate results from the high number of married, childless women in the nation today.

They give several reasons for the decline: a preference for smaller families, fewer young marriages, and the decision of many women to put off pregnancies until later in life.

The researchers also refer to surveys showing that American women do not intend to remain childless; most women under age 30 expect to have families of at least two children.

Another baby boom predicted

Those of us who fear the human race is slowly becoming extinct should take heart. Researchers predict another baby boom already has begun.

Two California demographers, working with statistics from California, New York, Hawaii, Washington and Oregon, predict the fertility rate of the nation, which has been declining for several years, is now on the rise.

The fertility rate is the number of live births per 1,000 women between the child bearing ages of 15 and 44. The rate reached a peak in 1957 and a record low in 1973 with 69.2 births.

June Sklar of the University of California and Beth Berkov of the California State Dept. of Health revealed their statistics in a current issue of Science magazine. They conclude that the general decline in the fertility rate results from the high number of married, childless women in the nation today.

They give several reasons for the decline: a preference for smaller families, fewer young marriages, and the decision of many women to put off pregnancies until later in life.

The researchers also refer to surveys showing that American women do not intend to remain childless; most women under age 30 expect to have families of at least two children.

Isotope stand-in for regular atom

Andy sends a complete 20-volume set of the Merit Students Encyclopedia to Kevin Flaherty, 14, of Asheville, N.C., for his question:
WHAT EXACTLY ARE ISOTOPES?

Isotopes belong in the realm of invisibly small atoms. We know of 100 or so different chemical elements, and the atoms in each element are alike. In stage language, a stand-in is someone who can take over the role of a regular player. In the language of science, an isotope is a sort of stand-in for a regular atom. However, it weighs more than the original, and its role may be more dramatic.

If your interest runs to atoms, the Periodic Table of Chemical Elements will fascinate you. Though it looks like a coded top-secret document, it is as simple as ABC. Eash square gives basic data on one of the known elements. For example, squares H, O and U belong to hydrogen, oxygen and uranium. Each has its atomic number, plus a mass number which tells the total weight of its basic atom.

This remarkable chart was started when researchers assumed that all atomic particles carried either a positive or negative electrical charge. The atomic number gives the positive protons in the atomic nucleus. Hydrogen, the smallest atom, has one. Oxygen has eight, and uranium has 92. In a normal atom, the number of positive protons is matched by its number of negative electrons.

The mass number is the total weight of all known and unknown particles inside an atom. The heavy proton is one mass unit, and the tiny electron is negligible. The hydrogen atom, with one proton and one electron, has a mass number of one plus a tiny fraction. But a quantity of hydrogen gas weighs slightly more than it should — if each nucleus has only one proton.

Solving this problem led to the discovery of both neutrons and isotopes. The neutral neutron has neither a positive nor negative charge. All atoms, except regular hydrogen, have neutrons in their nuclei. Isotopes are overweight atoms with extra neutrons. Among about 6,000 atoms of hydrogen gas there is an isotope of hydrogen two. It has a proton, an electron and a neutron.

The isotope hydrogen two is heavy hydrogen, alias deuterium. Tritium, hydrogen three, is a hydrogen isotope with two unexpected protons. We now know that all elements have isotopes. Their reactions differ from regular atoms, and many are useful in biological research. Some isotopes are radioactive. For example, uranium 235 is a radioactive isotope used as a fuel to produce nuclear energy.

Andy sends a 7-volume set of the Chronicles of Narnia to Beth Ann Winter, 8, of Lancaster, Pa., for her question:
WHAT DO LIGHTNING BUGS EAT?

The life of a lightning bug starts with an egg, resting among fallen leaves on the ground. It hatches into a grubby little caterpillar. This is the hungry stage of his life — and he may eat enough to last for the rest of his life. The famished fellow is a meat-eater and eats almost any little creature he can find on the ground. These junior lightning bugs eat all sorts of other insects and even a few snails and slugs. Some types eat plant roots and a few leaves, but most eat only meat.

After the lightning bug caterpillar has eaten all he can, he takes a rest. He enfolds himself in a stiff shell and becomes a pupa, while his body goes through a great change. When he hatches, he is a grown-up lightning bug with wings. This stage of his life does not last very long — and as a rule he does not eat anything at all.

Superb play wins again

Win at bridge

by Oswald and Jim Jacoby

Jim: "As we have pointed out many times, if you want to overbid you should be able to get the most out of your dummy play."

Oswald: "South really got a lot of mileage out of 15 high-card points. His reverse to two hearts had to represent his full strength and then some. Yet after West tried two spades and North passed, South refused to give up and tried three diamonds."

Jim: "This caused North to come out of his shell and in spite of the fact that he was sure his partner held only four hearts, North jumped to the heart game."

Oswald: "There wasn't too much to the play. Just one very good play by South at trick three. The defense had started with three rounds of spades and South quickly discarded a club from his hand instead of ruffing. West shifted to the king of clubs, but the boat had sailed without him. South won, drew trumps and discarded his last two losing clubs on dummy's long diamonds.

Superb play wins again

Win at bridge

by Oswald and Jim Jacoby

Jim: "As we have pointed out many times, if you want to overbid you should be able to get the most out of your dummy play."

Oswald: "South really got a lot of mileage out of 15 high-card points. His reverse to two hearts had to represent his full strength and then some. Yet after West tried two spades and North passed, South refused to give up and tried three diamonds."

Jim: "This caused North to come out of his shell and in spite of the fact that he was sure his partner held only four hearts, North jumped to the heart game."

Oswald: "There wasn't too much to the play. Just one very good play by South at trick three. The defense had started with three rounds of spades and South quickly discarded a club from his hand instead of ruffing. West shifted to the king of clubs, but the boat had sailed without him. South won, drew trumps and discarded his last two losing clubs on dummy's long diamonds.

We endorse sane U.S. pay

The U.S. Senate last week took a sane and responsible step in controlling salary increases.

It approved by a 53 to 39 margin, a compromise plan which would approve a 5 per cent, rather than an 8.66 per cent, increase for all federal employes — including the senators themselves.

The vote is a triumph for President Ford, for he supported the anti-inflationary plan to trim the salary increases for 1.2 million white collar government workers and more than 2 million military people.

But the Senate's effort to limit raises may be overturned by the House. The measure now goes to the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service Thursday. A full House vote is expected next week.

We've never disagreed with the need for fereral civil servants and elected officials to be paid appropriate salaries. But the difference between the 5 per cent and 8.66 per cent increases is $1.6 billion. In better economic times, perhaps this nation could afford the luxury of such a large-scale increase, but as the Federal budget balloons further, there's no excuse for an excessive, across-the-board salary increase.

When the matter reaches the floor of the House, we hope that U.S. Rep. Philip Crane, R-12th, maintains his August position of voting against high salary rates. Abner Mikva, D-10th, owes it to his constituents to change his vote in favor of the 5 per cent figure; in August, he voted in favor of 8.66 per cent raises.

In this era of declining tax revenue, growing budget deficit and the tax cut, economic realities dictate that Federal salary increases be kept to a minimum. In the federal government, that budget authority can be wielded by our elected representatives.

We hope that both Crane and Mikva are aware the public is unwilling to shoulder another high pay increase.

I'm thinking only of the hundreds of thousands of federal employes!

On this day in history:

• In 1776, the British hanged American Revolutionary War hero and patriot Nathan Hale seconds after he uttered his immortal words: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

• In 1789, Congress authorized creation of the office of postmaster general of the United States.

• In 1949, the U.S. nuclear monopoly ended as the Soviet Union detonated its first atomic bomb.

A thought for the day: British poet and author Rudyard Kipling said, "Meddling with another man's folly is always thankless work."

RTA's 'rape' of suburbs ripped

Daley tried for a long time to get a permanent subsidy for his dearly beloved CTA. Surely it is obvious that its illegitimate child, the RTA, was created solely to siphon suburban money and send it on a one-way trip to Chicago.

Isn't it strange that Pikarsky, Daley's man, was the "best for the job?" Any student of "Chicago politics" could have told you he'd be the one. He's well on the way to creating a one-man dictatorship, and I don't like it.

This country was not built by the type of people who were content to live all their lives within walking distance of mass transit. It was done by those who were willing to pay their own way on whatever transportation system was available. Free spirits who wanted to go when and where they desired, and not be slaves to the schedule of somebody who couldn't care less about their convenience.

Why do we meekly accept the myth that "since we fled to the suburbs, we owe something to the great city of Chicago?" I reject the proposition entirely. We're here by choice. This is a free country, isn't it?

If anyone chooses to live in Chicago, it's fine with me. If they want to do without a car, that's alright, too.

But don't expect me to pay a gasoline tax so that they can ride a bus for nothing. What is so sacred about the fare level that it can't be raised to meet increased costs? We have to pay for our insurance, license plates, tires, batteries, gasoline and upkeep and there certainly is no lid on prices for these items. We pay our own way, we don't expect the people in Chicago to do it. So don't tell me I should pay for their rides. No way!

I am writing to my representatives asking that they end this ridiculous rape of the suburbs. It was a mistake in the first place, so let's end it before it has a chance to grow any worse.

Writing a letter is not hard at all. Let these people know what you think. Unless you do, they will represent the loud-mouthed minority that gets all the support of the politicians and news reporters. They'd like it if we'd open our pocketbooks and shut our mouths. Aren't you tired of it? I am.

Buffalo Grove chief defended

Reference is made to the so-called Fabish-Winter feud resulting from the rained-out dinner dance during the Buffalo Grove Days the weekend of Aug. 29, as reported in the Sept. 4 issue of the Buffalo Grove Herald. Also to the reply published in the Sept. 8 issue submitted by James H. Goldman, who seems to be a much better informed firefighter of the Buffalo Grove Fire Department than our village president, Mr. Fabish.

The sad comments Mr. Fabish has publicly made in print in regard to the ability and knowledge of Fire Chief Wayne Winter are not befitting a village president's position. All seem to be purely personal dating back for some time, quote "Winter had not been cooperative for the last six or seven years. It's not just this one incident but this was the last straw," ends Fabish's quote.

I believe the chief knows the value of protecting valuable equipment at all times in order to maintain efficiency in case of emergencies that may arise. Also, I believe insurance companies must be aware of this and recognize the integrity and ability of the chief and his men.

From personal experience of myself and family and two occasions when the fire department's paramedic ambulance were needed, and the service of the well-trained men as well, plus one small fire call, I also have noted the chief and his men take refresher courses at the Northwest Community Hospital that keep them always up to date on the procedures in connection with the paramedic operations. This from my personal observation. In view of the efficiency of the paramedic services under the Chief, I wonder whether or not Mr. Fabish would call on the paramedics of Buffalo Grove to help him or his family in the event of an emergency, or would his personal feud dictate that he call a private ambulance service. I presume, as village president, he might be given the paramedic service at "no charge," and that might govern his decision.

Blackhawk School decision a good one

The Schaumburg Township Dist. 54 board has voted to abandon Blackhawk School in Hoffman Estates as a classroom building. Although the decision was a controversial one, we must agree with the vote.

The 17-year-old school, once nationally acclaimed for its progressive design is falling apart. Renovation of Blackhawk would cost up to $750,000, and that's just too much money to sink into a 12-classroom school that really isn't needed.

The board ran into controversy last June when the administration came out with a recommendation to close the school. A parents' group organized in protest of the closing, saying the renovation was approved by voters in a $16.6 million bond referendum in 1970 and the board was morally obligated to keep the school open.

The board voted 4 to 3 in June to renovate the school, but that was before updated estimates on reconstruction costs were available and the magnitude of repairs known.

On Thursday night, board members voted 4 to 3 to abandon the building as a school. Board member Margaret Pageler, who was the only board member to change her vote, gave the best possible reason for favoring abandonment.

Pageler said she was weighing the credibility of the board and its responsiveness to the electorate on the one hand and weighing the welfare of the children on the other.

The children of Blackhawk School won out.

I disagree with the theme of Jerome Ludmann's letter to the Fence Post dated Sept. 17. Your remarks toward the police were vague and failed to identify the police involved, or what city they represent. Your reference to police cast an unfair image and a false stigma to the men of the Rolling Meadows Police Department.

You made reference to a 5:30 time period at Kirchoff Rd. and Wilke where heavy race track traffic causes problems and the police do not direct the traffic. Let me clarify. That intersection for that period is the responsibility of the Village of Arlington Heights.

You mentioned Foremost Liquor Store and officers parked there waiting to issue a ticket. Let me clarify. Foremost Liquors is in Arlington Heights, not Rolling Meadows. 'Acceptable' violence

by TOM TIEDE

WASHINGTON — When members of the House Agriculture Committee were informed that someone had just tried to assassinate Gerald Ford, one member rose thus to the occasion: "Well, Mr. Chairman," he said, for the first time since McKinley it seems we have a Republican president worth killing, and that's a good sign."

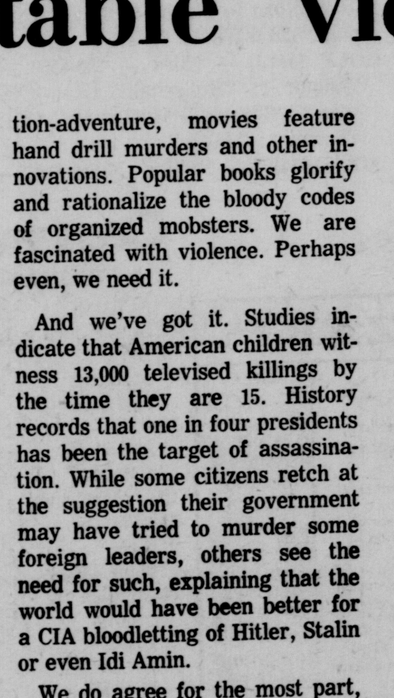
Remarkably, the level of concern did not rise above that comment anywhere in America. Newspapers trotted out the perfunctory headlines relating to the homicidal society, politicos contributed self-serving observations on the nature of public life, the anti-gun lobby seized the opportunity to further its argument that gun regulation would have somehow stopped Squeaky Fromme. Missing from the obligatory discussion in almost every instance, was any sense of outrage that such events continue so repetitiously to humiliate the society and its sense of propriety.

That the nation is becoming desensitized to violence can no longer be denied. Americans who once subscribed to John Donne's truth that each man's welfare is of concern to the whole, have, probably since World War II, been turning their emotions and concerns inward. Life has become cheap, violence accepted; many have adjusted to brutality in so far as it does not violate their own selves.

Whatever became of indignation? As Vance Packard reminds, in "A Nation of Strangers," it was left behind in the old neighborhood. Accelerating events have buffeted people with complexities far beyond any ability to sort them out for absorption. Violence is what has been inherited and not only do many adjust to it, many demand it. Sixty per cent of network television program is action-adventure, movies feature hand drill murders and other innovations. Popular books glorify and rationalize the bloody codes of organized mobsters. We are fascinated with violence. Perhaps even, we need it.

And we've got it. Studies indicate that American children witness 13,000 televised killings by the time they are 15. History records that one in four presidents has been the target of assassination. While some citizens retch at the suggestion their government may have tried to murder some foreign leaders, others see the need for such, explaining that the world would have been better for a CIA bloodletting of Hitler, Stalin or even Idi Amin.

We do agree for the most part, as psychologist-criminologist Karl Menninger says, that some kinds of violence are unwanted. The common criminal variety has thus been chosen scapegoat. Statistics are shocking: 56 murders a day, 8,000 known assaults a week, maybe 100,000 to 200,000 rapes a year.



LYNETTE FROMME

And what is the response to it all? Feeling the answer to violence is more violence, George Wallace signs a new death penalty bill in Alabama and says, "I hope we have some executions here soon." Meanwhile, the rest of us put the third lock on our doors, check the shells for our 50 to 200 million private weapons, and seal ourselves thus against reality.

Yet even while it shores up physically against some violence, the nation no longer seems to care attitudinally. With exceptions, it has lost the visceral sense that the workable apparatus of community has been wrongly rearranged, and that accepting it may be fatal. Thus apathy may be killing Americans as surely as is violence; on Human Kindness Day in Washington this year there were at least 500 robberies and assaults in the commemorating crowd, many of them because the peace ful many were not sufficiently outraged by the savage few.

For some, understandably, indignation is a trite word, outdated by events, meaningless for millions who have gotten nowhere being outraged by political corruption, moral erosion, or to be sure criminal proliferation. For others, after a lifetime of headlines, the capacity to feel offended has passed. In any event, after 200 years, it is clear that resignation and indifference are the new national spirit, and weary coexistence with hate is the conventional wisdom. Someone tries to kill the President? So what else is new.

Somewhere in all this indifference, this desensitized flesh, the idea of hope may also become a casualty of the homicidal momentum.

'New look' Chicago Bears resemble Bears of old

by PAUL LOGAN

The atmosphere was festive. Hopes were high and why not?

It was the Chicago Bears' season opener Sunday at Soldier Field. Eager fans hurried to their seats, anxious to see the new look promised by coach Jack Pardee.

The Bears' new head man had 23 new faces, including eight promising rookies in the starting lineup. But before halftime, many in the crowd were booing.

The new as well as the old faces were playing like Abe Gibron's 1974 version — like losers.

In what was billed as one of the Bears' easiest games of the season against a two-point underdog Baltimore Colt team, the Bears fell behind 21-0 in the second quarter and never threatened.

Gibron, one of 51,678 in attendance, left early along with many others as the Colts won going away, 35-7.

His replacement — Pardee — couldn't leave. With a slightly dazed look on his face, he fielded the media's questions in the morgue-like Bear locker room.

Pardee said that prior to the game he should have known something bad was about to happen when raw sewage, six inches deep, flooded the dressing room. "Then we went out and stunk up the field," he said. "We came out and didn't have any emotion in the first part of the game."

But the Colts, led by the inspiring play of their young quarterback Bert Jones, did play with emotion. Jones, a 6-foot-3, 212-pound 23-year-old, played like many had hoped Bobby Douglass would — scrambling (four rushes for 41 yards) when he had to for key yardage and passing extremely well (15 of 24 for 177 yards).

Pardee called Jones' two runs "great plays" that were "the turning point of the game." On a third and seven, this potential superstar broke away from the Bears' pass rush and ran for 13 yards to the one, setting up the first touchdown.

Early in the second quarter, Jones had a third and five situation at the Bear 30 and went up the middle again, this time for seven crucial yards. Four plays later, Jones hit the first of two touchdown passes to wide receiver Glenn Doughty.

The really-clinching score came a short time later when Douglass didn't get enough pass protection. While being pulled down, he threw for wide receiver Bo Rather, but linebacker Nelson Munsey intercepted. This was one of two times Douglass was picked off.

Then Jones, who came through with the big play in nine of 14 third down chances, did so again. This time he turned a third-and-12 situation into a 20-yard completion, setting up the third touchdown.

Jones said that the Colts "were fortunate on third downs. We executed well and got 'em." He wouldn't comment on any weaknesses in the Bears' defense, but their man-to-man coverage was burned repeatedly. It was also hurt when at one point two rookies were in the secondary after Nemiah Wilson was injured.

Ted Marchibroda, Baltimore's new head coach, wouldn't criticize the Bears either. Instead, he praised his team's superior overall play as being the difference. He called the Bears "an extremely fine defensive club that is going to be heard from before the season is over."

But Pardee, a man who had great pride in his defensive play as an all-pro, couldn't write off the lopsided setback as easily.

"It's a game of big plays," he said, thinking of his team's paltry 134 total yards with touted rookie phenom Walter Payton being held to zero yards in eight tries. "They got 'em and we didn't.

"We got beat as a team on offense, defense and special teams. We haven't arrived there yet."

Some fans seemed to know that before the game began, booing Douglass during the introductions.

After Douglass went 1-for-7 with one interception in the first half, Pardee said the coaches "thought of bringing in Huff (Gary) but that wasn't the answer altogether."

Douglass and his teammates didn't play well together until they were down 28-0 in the third quarter. Then they played "a little more emotional," according to the qurterback, en route to their only touchdown.

But even that drive had a fluke label attached when a key reception was a 17-yarder by guard Noah Jackson after the pass was batted down.

It was the second longest completion of the day for the Bears!

Near-perfect Saxon machine rolls, 47-0

by ART MUGALIAN

Steve Knudson

Somewhere, someday a football team will play the perfect football game.

Every offensive play will follow the blocking, Each of the opponent's efforts will be met with rock-like resistance on that day of days.

Until then, Schaumburg's 47-0 victory Saturday over neighborhood rival Conant will have to serve as the paragon of gridiron excellence.

Everything worked for Schaumburg.

The Saxons swarmed over the visiting Cougars for a near-record 554 total yards, including 442 on the ground. Russ Zonca, Scott Mielke, and junior Steve Knudson each rushed for 100 yards or more as the Saxons ran for touchdowns seven of the 11 times they had the ball.

And coach Bob Ferguson's Schaumburg crew registered its third straight shutout and second in a row in the Mid-Suburban League South. The defense held Conant (0-3) to 44 yards all day and just five first downs, two of which came on pass interference penalties.

"It was a superb effort by everybody," said Ferguson in the season's most obvious understatement.

It was a typical game for Zonca, the talented 190-pound quarterback—the kind of game that should make the option-style field leader a shoo-in for all-state honors this year. Zonca racked up 102 yards on the ground, passed for 112 completing five of six attempts, and ran for TDs of 47 and 14 yards.

But Zonca got more help than he needed Saturday. He got more help than he needs in an average year.

Mielke (192 total yards), Knudson (120 yards rushing), Mark Godinez (51 yards rushing), and Brad Crawford (three catches, 68 yards) lent a hand on offense. They were ably assisted by the blocking up front of Gary Bolger, Scott Timcoe, Bill Bolger, Mike Kiley, and another all-state candidate, Scott Scholz.

On defense, Scholz and Kiley led a persistent assault on Cougar runners and passers—several of whom were shuttled in and out of the game in an unsuccessful try at the Schaumburg goal line.

Conant's premier ground-gainer, 5-foot-1 Steve Stompanato, was caught behind the line of scrimmage six times. Cougar passers were sacked five times and Scholz picked off a Tom Haupert aerial. Saxon defensive ends Steve Atamian and Mike Orlowicz and tackle Steve Skipworth chipped in too.

Ferguson repeated his "60-per-cent-of-the-game-is-defense" axiom again Saturday, but it was hard to take him seriously — particularly after the Saxon offense averaged better than 10-yards per play against Conant.

A light mist was falling at gametime, but nothing—not the rain nor the violent undercurrent of the intense Schaumburg-Conant rivalry — Could dampen the Saxon firepower.

Mielke ripped off a 12-yard gain on the third play from scrimmage, and Zonca hit Crawford for a 21-yard gainer on that opening drive, which ended with Mielke's 14-yard TD scamper

Palatine stuns visiting Peoria gridders, 21-14

by RICH ZADERAKA

"We felt we represented our Mid-Suburban League very well," bubbled Palatine football coach Arv Herstedt, after his Pirates had humbled visiting Peoria Central 21-14 at Ost Field Saturday afternoon.

Herstedt must have known his comment was an understatement, for Palatine performed capably, if not excellently, in each aspect of the game.

Defense was perhaps the most prominent Pirate forte on this overcast and somewhat chilly fall day. All three Palatine touchdowns were set up the Pirate defense.

PALATINE dominated the first half, the second quarter in particular, but could manage only one touchdown and a 7-7 deadlock at intermission.

The hosts scored at the 7:23 mark of the first period when quarterback Mark McCostlin banged over from just inches away. Bill Finlay's successful conversion kick made it 7-0.

McCostlin's TD capped a seven-play march from the Central 27, where Phil Unterreiner's recovery of a Lion fumble on their first offensive play awarded Palatine with excellent field position.

The Peoria club bounced right back, however, after a Palatine turnover later in the stanza. The Lions drove 55 yards in 11 snaps, halfback Dan Ruffin hitting paydirt on a five-yard pass from Joe Evans.

On the final play of the first quarter, McCostlin faked fullback Jeff Williams into the line, then tucked the ball in and scooted around right end, racing all the way to Central's 13 before being hauled down from behind by speedy Blake Cortez.

The next three Pirate plays gained nothing, and on fourth down Finlay missed a field goal attempt from the 23.

The defense kept the Pirates in good field position the rest of the quarter, but the offense was unable to mount a sustained attack. The Pirates did reach the enemy 12 late in the period, but Gerald Stewart intercepted a McCostlin toss in the end zone with eight seconds on the clock.

After Peoria's initial possession of the third quarter proved fruitless, the guests attempted to punt from the 42. But Jim Popp, who also was a Lion nemesis on offense, broke through and blocked the kick, then recovered on the 31.

On third and 13 at the 34, Popp rambled free on a draw. As he reached the Lion 10-yard line however, a solid hit jarred the ball loose.

'New look' Chicago Bears resemble Bears of old

by PAUL LOGAN

The atmosphere was festive. Hopes were high and why not?

It was the Chicago Bears' season opener Sunday at Soldier Field. Eager fans hurried to their seats, anxious to see the new look promised by coach Jack Pardee.

The Bears' new head man had 23 new faces, including eight promising rookies in the starting lineup. But before halftime, many in the crowd were booing.

The new as well as the old faces were playing like Abe Gibron's 1974 version — like losers.

In what was billed as one of the Bears' easiest games of the season against a two-point underdog Baltimore Colt team, the Bears fell behind 21-0 in the second quarter and never threatened.

Gibron, one of 51,678 in attendance, left early along with many others as the Colts won going away, 35-7.

His replacement — Pardee — couldn't leave. With a slightly dazed look on his face, he fielded the media's questions in the morgue-like Bear locker room.

Pardee said that prior to the game he should have known something bad was about to happen when raw sewage, six inches deep, flooded the dressing room. "Then we went out and stunk up the field," he said. "We came out and didn't have any emotion in the first part of the game."

But the Colts, led by the inspiring play of their young quarterback Bert Jones, did play with emotion. Jones, a 6-foot-3, 212-pound 23-year-old, played like many had hoped Bobby Douglass would — scrambling (four rushes for 41 yards) when he had to for key yardage and passing extremely well (15 of 24 for 177 yards).

Pardee called Jones' two runs "great plays" that were "the turning point of the game." On a third and seven, this potential superstar broke away from the Bears' pass rush and ran for 13 yards to the one, setting up the first touchdown.

Early in the second quarter, Jones had a third and five situation at the Bear 30 and went up the middle again, this time for seven crucial yards. Four plays later, Jones hit the first of two touchdown passes to wide receiver Glenn Doughty.

The really-clinching score came a short time later when Douglass didn't get enough pass protection. While being pulled down, he threw for wide receiver Bo Rather, but linebacker Nelson Munsey intercepted. This was one of two times Douglass was picked off.

Then Jones, who came through with the big play in nine of 14 third down chances, did so again. This time he turned a third-and-12 situation into a 20-yard completion, setting up the third touchdown.

Jones said that the Colts "were fortunate on third downs. We executed well and got 'em." He wouldn't comment on any weaknesses in the Bears' defense, but their man-to-man coverage was burned repeatedly. It was also hurt when at one point two rookies were in the secondary after Nemiah Wilson was injured.

Ted Marchibroda, Baltimore's new head coach, wouldn't criticize the Bears either. Instead, he praised his team's superior overall play as being the difference. He called the Bears "an extremely fine defensive club that is going to be heard from before the season is over."

Miami, Oakland collide tonight

The Miami Dolphins know they have some problems, but tonight at 8:00 football fans and the Oakland Raiders don't have to worry — they will show up in time for the kickoff.

"I think it would be a very big mistake for anybody to feel too sorry for us just yet," says starting fullback Don Nottingham. "No matter what anybody says, we'll be there Monday night — on time and ready to go."

The Dolphins and Raiders are matched tonight on ABC-TV in a not-so-instant replay of their playoff thriller last December, which Oakland won 28-26 with a scoring pass from Ken Stabler to Clarence Davis with 35 seconds to go.

Both teams have made some changes since that game, especially the Dolphins, who lost Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League and have suffered serious injury problems during the preseason.

Of the 11 players that started on defense in the playoff game for Miami, only six, and maybe only five, will line up Monday night. On offense, only running back Benny Malone is questionable for the Dolphins with a hamstring pull.

Sox tumble; Wood loses No. 20

Gaylord Perry, backed by four homers, scored his 17th victory of the season by scattering six hits Sunday as he pitched the Texas Rangers to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Perry, who had a shutout until the ninth while evening his record at 17-17, was supported by homers by Jeff Burroughs, his 29th, Dave Nelson, Mike Hargrove and Jim Fregosi.

White Sox starter Wilbur Wood lost his 20th game for the second time in his career to tie a club mark held by Hall of Famer Ted Lyons.

Burroughs broke a scoreless tie with two out in the fourth with a homer into the rightfield stands. A walk to Tom Grieve was followed by Fregosi's two-run shot to left in the fifth. Nelson led off the sixth with a belt to the leftfield stands and Hargrove followed with a 430-foot smash into the centerfield bullpen.

The Rangers added three more runs in the eighth off Dan Osborn.

Cubs fall in ninth inning, 5-4

Pinchhitter Jim Lyttle singled home Jerry White with the winning run with one out in the ninth inning Sunday and the Montreal Expos won their fifth straight game with a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

White led off the inning with a single off loser Paul Reuschel. Pete Mackanin sacrificed White to second and he scored on Lyttle's single to left.

Reliever Dale Murray pitched the final four innings and earned his 14th victory, high on the Expos' staff, against eight losses.

The Cubs tied the score with two runs in the ninth. Jose Cardenal singled and went to second on Tim Foli's throwing error. Andy Thornton singled and Manny Trillo singled to narrow the score to 4-3. Gene Hiser walked to load the bases and Thornton scored on George Mitterwald's sacrifice fly to center to tie the score.

Baltimore, Jones embarrass Bears; Minnesota, Detroit capture debuts

by United Press International

Bert Jones squirmed his way through butterfingered Chicago tacklers and bamboozled their defensive backfield with his passes Sunday in a 35-7 Baltimore Colts' romp over the Bears.

Baltimore's easy win came in one of 12 games on the opening Sunday of the National Football League schedule. Miami and Oakland meet Monday night on ABC-TV, starting at 8:00.

Jones, a third-year quarterback from LSU, threw touchdown passes of four and seven yards, both to Glenn Doughty, and his bolts past the Bear pass rush helped set up all three Baltimore touchdowns in their 21-point second quarter.

With 15 completions in 24 tries for 177 yards, Jones provided a welcome gift to his new coach, Ted Marchibroda, directing his first game in the NFL.

Don McCauley made it all the nicer for Marchibroda with touchdown runs of one and three yards and Roosevelt Leaks scored from one yard out in his first carry as a professional in a regular game.

It was quite the opposite for another rookie NFL coach, Jack Pardee, who saw his refurbished offense choked off until late in the third quarter when roundly-booed Bobby Douglass led the Bears 71 yards in eight plays, taking it in himself from one yard out.

Douglass was intercepted twice and both of the thefts led to Baltimore touchdowns.

In other games involving Central Division teams Fran Tarkenton threw a fourth quarter touchdown pass and Chuck Foreman ran for one TD to give Minnesota's Vikings a 27-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

The Detroit Lions turned three blocked punts, including two by Levi Johnson, into touchdowns and rolled over the Green Bay Packers 30-16 to ruin Bart Starr's debut as an NFL coach.

The Lions, one of five teams that lost practice time because of the strike, failed to mount an offense until the fourth quarter and needed the blocked kicks and interceptions to move in front.

Bill Kilmer tossed four touchdown passes — two of them to Charlie Taylor — and the Washington Redskins routed the New Orleans Saints, 41-3, to provide coach George Allen with his 10th opening game victory without a loss.

The Redskins showed no signs of rust from the strike layoff as Kilmer completed 14 of 26 passes good for 199 yards.

Ron Johnson scored on two short touchdown runs to help the New York Giants overcome three blocked kicks and defeat the Philadelphia Eagles, 23-14. After the Eagles had crept to within two points with less than a minute to play, the Giants put the game out of reach when quarterback Craig Morton hit wide receiver Ray Rhodes with a 50-yard scoring pass.

The Cincinnati Bengals jumped off to a quick 14-0 first quarter lead and then had to fight off a last-half rally by the Cleveland Browns to escape with a 24-17 win.

The Browns trailed 24-3 late in the third quarter, but scored two touchdowns within 48 seconds. Minutes later Cleveland blew two golden opportunities when quarterback Mike Phipps kept fumbling the center snap at the Bengals' one.

O. J. Simpson, who rushed for 173 yards, combined with quarterback Joe Ferguson for five touchdowns as the Buffalo Bills scuttled the New York Jets 42-14.

Simpson rushed for two touchdowns and Ferguson passed for two scores and ran for another. Buffalo picked off four Joe Namath passes.

Jim Bakken kicked a 25-yard field goal as the clock ran out to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 23-20 victory and spoil the pro debut of Atlanta Falcon quarterback Steve Bartkowski. Bartkowski completed eight of 16 passes for 81 yards. St. Louis' Jim Hart passed for 150 yards with a 12-of-23 day.

The best duel was between Terry Metcalf (98 yards in 20 carries) of St. Louis and Dave Hampton (135 in 22 tries) of Atlanta.

Strong safety Willie Germany scampered 48 yards with a first period fumble recovery for the only points of the game as the Houston Oilers defeated the New England Patriots, 7-0.

The Patriots, playing without injured quarterback Jim Plunkett, had to use untested Neil Graff and the second-year pro from Wisconsin completed 10 of 18 passes but for only 95 yards.

The fearsome Dallas defense, led by Mel Renfro's two interceptions and a withering pass rush, smothered almost every move Los Angeles tried to give the Cowboys an easy 18-7 conquest of the Rams.

Dallas had surrendered only 67 total yards until a late Los Angeles drive brought the only Rams' points of the day. The Cowboys were threatening most of the afternoon, and had to settle for four field goals, of 25, 39, 19 and 31 yards by Tony Fritsch and a one-yard TD plunge by Doug Dennison.

Terry Bradshaw hurled two long touchdown passes and Roy Gerela kicked three field goals as the Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers opened with a 37-0 romp over the San Diego Chargers. The Chargers crossed midfield only three times and their deepest penetration was to the Pittsburgh 41 on the final play of the opening half.

Charley Johnson, who threw for two touchdowns earlier, passed 11 yards to Billy Van Heusen with 1:46 to play and lifted the Denver Broncos, who had trailed 33-24 in the final period, to a 37-33 win over the Kansas City Chiefs.

Red Sox rookie Rice sidelined with broken hand

DETROIT (UPI) — Jim Rice, one-half of the Boston Red Sox' dynamic rookie duo, suffered a broken left hand Sunday when hit by a pitched ball and will be lost to the team for the duration of the season.

Rice, who had hit 22 home runs and driven in 102 runs, was hit on the left hand by a pitch thrown by Detroit's Vern Ruhle. He was flown to Boston where a decision would be made on a possible operation.

through the middle of the line.

A moment later, Knudson demonstrated his trackman's speed when he took an option pitch from Zonca and zipped past several potential tacklers down the right sideline for a 49-yard score.

"Knudson showed good speed on that one long run," said Ferguson, "and Zonca showed what he can do on that long run of his, didn't he?"

Starting at the Cougar 47, the versatile QB faked his way through the line, then sidestepped a pair of sure tackles at the 30 and rambled into the end zone.

"Zonca loves to carry the ball," said Ferguson, again surprising no one. "But he's been running too much. We've been trying to get him to pitch it more. We told him that unless he has the home run for sure, he should pitch."

So Godinez, Mielke, and Knudson got on the scoreboard in the second half, and Zonca added a 14-yard "home run" for good measure.

Mielke's second TD of the game came on a quick-opening off-tackle play on which the 6-1, 180-pound sprinter outran the entire Conant defense. Earlier Mielke electrified the home crowd with a dazzling 40-yarder that was called back.

Ferguson's offensive plan was conservative. Reserve quarterback Steve Conrad directed the attack for the final 12 minutes. And the Saxons passed just twice in the second half.

"It was a really good team effort today," the Saxon coach acknowledged. "And that's what we wanted on offense. You've got to mix it up, you've got to be balanced if you want to be successful."

Maybe someday Ferguson and his Saxons will play that perfect football game.

Peoria Central scored its second touchdown late in the game, catching the Pirate defense by surprise on a 36-yard halfback option pass play from Bryant Ragler to Ruffin. The conversion shaved the margin to 21-14, but Palatine easily expired the remaining time.

Herstedt called the victory "the result of a good team effort." The Pirate mentor cited the blocking of senior tackle John Petko and John Olszewski, noting "they consistently made good holes and Peoria just couldn't handle our size."

Defensively, Pirate standouts were tackle Jim Smearman and linebacker Unterreiner. The latter recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass.

O. J. SIMPSON of Buffalo eludes attempted tackle by Jamie Rivers (right) of the New York Jets and drives for touchdown Sunday. Simpson had 173 yards rushing and two TDs as Buffalo triumphed, 42-14.

Miami, Oakland collide tonight

The Miami Dolphins know they have some problems, but tonight at 8:00 football fans and the Oakland Raiders don't have to worry — they will show up in time for the kickoff.

"I think it would be a very big mistake for anybody to feel too sorry for us just yet," says starting fullback Don Nottingham. "No matter what anybody says, we'll be there Monday night — on time and ready to go."

The Dolphins and Raiders are matched tonight on ABC-TV in a not-so-instant replay of their playoff thriller last December, which Oakland won 28-26 with a scoring pass from Ken Stabler to Clarence Davis with 35 seconds to go.

Both teams have made some changes since that game, especially the Dolphins, who lost Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick to the World Football League and have suffered serious injury problems during the preseason.

Of the 11 players that started on defense in the playoff game for Miami, only six, and maybe only five, will line up Monday night. On offense, only running back Benny Malone is questionable for the Dolphins with a hamstring pull.

Sox tumble; Wood loses No. 20

Gaylord Perry, backed by four homers, scored his 17th victory of the season by scattering six hits Sunday as he pitched the Texas Rangers to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Perry, who had a shutout until the ninth while evening his record at 17-17, was supported by homers by Jeff Burroughs, his 29th, Dave Nelson, Mike Hargrove and Jim Fregosi.

White Sox starter Wilbur Wood lost his 20th game for the second time in his career to tie a club mark held by Hall of Famer Ted Lyons.

Burroughs broke a scoreless tie with two out in the fourth with a homer into the rightfield stands. A walk to Tom Grieve was followed by Fregosi's two-run shot to left in the fifth. Nelson led off the sixth with a belt to the leftfield stands and Hargrove followed with a 430-foot smash into the centerfield bullpen.

The Rangers added three more runs in the eighth off Dan Osborn.

Cubs fall in ninth inning, 5-4

Pinchhitter Jim Lyttle singled home Jerry White with the winning run with one out in the ninth inning Sunday and the Montreal Expos won their fifth straight game with a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

White led off the inning with a single off loser Paul Reuschel. Pete Mackanin sacrificed White to second and he scored on Lyttle's single to left.

Reliever Dale Murray pitched the final four innings and earned his 14th victory, high on the Expos' staff, against eight losses.

The Cubs tied the score with two runs in the ninth. Jose Cardenal singled and went to second on Tim Foli's throwing error. Andy Thornton singled and Manny Trillo singled to narrow the score to 4-3. Gene Hiser walked to load the bases and Thornton scored on George Mitterwald's sacrifice fly to center to tie the score.

National Football League roundup

Baltimore, Jones embarrass Bears; Minnesota, Detroit capture debuts

by United Press International

Bert Jones squirmed his way through butterfingered Chicago tacklers and bamboozled their defensive backfield with his passes Sunday in a 35-7 Baltimore Colts' romp over the Bears.

Baltimore's easy win came in one of 12 games on the opening Sunday of the National Football League schedule. Miami and Oakland meet Monday night on ABC-TV, starting at 8:00.

Jones, a third-year quarterback from LSU, threw touchdown passes of four and seven yards, both to Glenn Doughty, and his bolts past the Bear pass rush helped set up all three Baltimore touchdowns in their 21-point second quarter.

With 15 completions in 24 tries for 177 yards, Jones provided a welcome gift to his new coach, Ted Marchibroda, directing his first game in the NFL.

Don McCauley made it all the nicer for Marchibroda with touchdown runs of one and three yards and Roosevelt Leaks scored from one yard out in his first carry as a professional in a regular game.

It was quite the opposite for another rookie NFL coach, Jack Pardee, who saw his refurbished offense choked off until late in the third quarter when roundly-booed Bobby Douglass led the Bears 71 yards in eight plays, taking it in himself from one yard out.

Douglass was intercepted twice and both of the thefts led to Baltimore touchdowns.

In other games involving Central Division teams Fran Tarkenton threw a fourth quarter touchdown pass and Chuck Foreman ran for one TD to give Minnesota's Vikings a 27-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

The Detroit Lions turned three blocked punts, including two by Levi Johnson, into touchdowns and rolled over the Green Bay Packers 30-16 to ruin Bart Starr's debut as an NFL coach.

The Lions, one of five teams that lost practice time because of the strike, failed to mount an offense until the fourth quarter and needed the blocked kicks and interceptions to move in front.

Bill Kilmer tossed four touchdown passes — two of them to Charlie Taylor — and the Washington Redskins routed the New Orleans Saints, 41-3, to provide coach George Allen with his 10th opening game victory without a loss.

The Redskins showed no signs of rust from the strike layoff as Kilmer completed 14 of 26 passes good for 199 yards.

Ron Johnson scored on two short touchdown runs to help the New York Giants overcome three blocked kicks and defeat the Philadelphia Eagles, 23-14. After the Eagles had crept to within two points with less than a minute to play, the Giants put the game out of reach when quarterback Craig Morton hit wide receiver Ray Rhodes with a 50-yard scoring pass.

The Cincinnati Bengals jumped off to a quick 14-0 first quarter lead and then had to fight off a last-half rally by the Cleveland Browns to escape with a 24-17 win.

The Browns trailed 24-3 late in the third quarter, but scored two touchdowns within 48 seconds. Minutes later Cleveland blew two golden opportunities when quarterback Mike Phipps kept fumbling the center snap at the Bengals' one.

O. J. Simpson, who rushed for 173 yards, combined with quarterback Joe Ferguson for five touchdowns as the Buffalo Bills scuttled the New York Jets 42-14.

Simpson rushed for two touchdowns and Ferguson passed for two scores and ran for another. Buffalo picked off four Joe Namath passes.

Jim Bakken kicked a 25-yard field goal as the clock ran out to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 23-20 victory and spoil the pro debut of Atlanta Falcon quarterback Steve Bartkowski. Bartkowski completed eight of 16 passes for 81 yards. St. Louis' Jim Hart passed for 150 yards with a 12-of-23 day.

The best duel was between Terry Metcalf (98 yards in 20 carries) of St. Louis and Dave Hampton (135 in 22 tries) of Atlanta.

Strong safety Willie Germany scampered 48 yards with a first period fumble recovery for the only points of the game as the Houston Oilers defeated the New England Patriots, 7-0.

The Patriots, playing without injured quarterback Jim Plunkett, had to use untested Neil Graff and the second-year pro from Wisconsin completed 10 of 18 passes but for only 95 yards.

The fearsome Dallas defense, led by Mel Renfro's two interceptions and a withering pass rush, smothered almost every move Los Angeles tried to give the Cowboys an easy 18-7 conquest of the Rams.

Dallas had surrendered only 67 total yards until a late Los Angeles drive brought the only Rams' points of the day. The Cowboys were threatening most of the afternoon, and had to settle for four field goals, of 25, 39, 19 and 31 yards by Tony Fritsch and a one-yard TD plunge by Doug Dennison.

Terry Bradshaw hurled two long touchdown passes and Roy Gerela kicked three field goals as the Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers opened with a 37-0 romp over the San Diego Chargers. The Chargers crossed midfield only three times and their deepest penetration was to the Pittsburgh 41 on the final play of the opening half.

Charley Johnson, who threw for two touchdowns earlier, passed 11 yards to Billy Van Heusen with 1:46 to play and lifted the Denver Broncos, who had trailed 33-24 in the final period, to a 37-33 win over the Kansas City Chiefs.

Red Sox rookie Rice sidelined with broken hand

DETROIT (UPI) — Jim Rice, one-half of the Boston Red Sox' dynamic rookie duo, suffered a broken left hand Sunday when hit by a pitched ball and will be lost to the team for the duration of the season.

Rice, who had hit 22 home runs and driven in 102 runs, was hit on the left hand by a pitch thrown by Detroit's Vern Ruhle. He was flown to Boston where a decision would be made on a possible operation.

Schaumburg in 47-0 romp

through the middle of the line.

A moment later, Knudson demonstrated his trackman's speed when he took an option pitch from Zonca and zipped past several potential tacklers down the right sideline for a 49-yard score.

"Knudson showed good speed on that one long run," said Ferguson, "and Zonca showed what he can do on that long run of his, didn't he?"

Starting at the Cougar 47, the versatile QB faked his way through the line, then sidestepped a pair of sure tackles at the 30 and rambled into the end zone.

"Zonca loves to carry the ball," said Ferguson, again surprising no one. "But he's been running too much. We've been trying to get him to pitch it more. We told him that unless he has the home run for sure, he should pitch."

So Godinez, Mielke, and Knudson got on the scoreboard in the second half, and Zonca added a 14-yard "home run" for good measure.

Mielke's second TD of the game came on a quick-opening off-tackle play on which the 6-1, 180-pound sprinter outran the entire Conant defense. Earlier Mielke electrified the home crowd with a dazzling 40-yarder that was called back.

Ferguson's offensive plan was conservative. Reserve quarterback Steve Conrad directed the attack for the final 12 minutes. And the Saxons passed just twice in the second half.

"It was a really good team effort today," the Saxon coach acknowledged. "And that's what we wanted on offense. You've got to mix it up, you've got to be balanced if you want to be successful."

Maybe someday Ferguson and his Saxons will play that perfect football game.

Enjoyable 21-6 day for Harper

by CHARLIE DICKINSON

John Eliasik knows a good routine when he sees one so Fred Allen kept getting curtain calls in the Harper backfield.

The Carmel-Mundelein freshman, who goes by the name Butch, missed the opener with Wright because of a hip-pointer but got his act polished enough to gain 70 yards in 10 carries as the Hawks balanced the season's books at 1-1 with a 21-6 win over Illinois Valley Saturday.

When it was over, Eliasik liked the feeling.

"I really enjoyed this one," he said. "We did a lot of things really well. Our offensive line showed some improvement and our defense played their second straight excellent game.

"The only negative thing about the whole day was letting them score on the last play of the game. But that is just a little icing off the cake."

Eliasik spent the first portion of the game manning the phones at the top of the bleachers and spotted a fatal seam in the Apaches' defense.

"They weren't playing with a true middle safety," he said, "and they were just giving us certain pass plays up the middle."

Quarterback Dave Patterson, who missed the second half with a rib injury, hit Rich Lehnert and John Miller with back-to-back passes over the middle for 42 yards to highlight an opening drive that ended with Jim Stump scoring from the one yard line on the Hawks' first possession.

In the second quarter Patterson went to work in earnest on the Illinois Valley defensive weakness and fired a 29-yard touchdown pass to Wayne Mill to make it 13-zip and came back minutes later with a 46-yard scoring pitch to Ed Seidman.

"Ed was so wide open he had time to have a hamburger before he caught the ball," Eliasik said. The 6-2 sophomore from Deerfield waited patiently for the ball then jigged past the last defender for the touchdown.

The Harper defense rose up to snatch the ball away from IV prior to both touchdowns. The threat of a fiery air show from the Apache quarterbacks never really materialized as Jack Stephens and Mike Cudden could put together only six completions in 22 attempts for 85 yards.

Kevin Kristick, the freshman linebacker from Schaumburg, picked off a Cudden pass to set up the Mill touchdown pass and defensive tackle Greg Tyson pounced on a fumble to give the offense the ball prior to Seidman's scoring catch.

The defense really got into the spirit of things in the second half, wrapping up the Harper scoring with a safety that was the result of a very bad snap in an IV punting situation.

Mark Blix shut down one Apache series when he batted a Stephens pass into the air and then intercepted it. Kevin Koppari and Ken Klewitz jumped on Stephens for a 14-yard loss, John Miller hit him for an eight yard loss and Bill Nash put him in a 13-yard hole as the Hawk defense allowed IV -48 yards rushing in the second half.

Allen did his best running in the second half, also, putting together runs of 14-, 16-, nine-and eight-yards. Backup quarterback Jim Stump from Conant and Jeff Kalb, who went to Maine West and just joined the squad, could not get the offense on the board as Patterson had.

"I got spear tackled right in the sternum," Patterson said on the sidelines, "and I can't raise my arm to throw."

His leg still worked perfectly though, booming out punts to keep the Apaches away from the Hawk end zone.

"What we were looking for this week," Eliasik said, "was a true team victory. One in which the offense contributes points and the defense keeps the other team in check.

"This was a good effort because we accomplished exactly that."

Area lands three harrier crowns

Cross country teams from Palatine, Prospect, and Hoffman Estates High Schools added first-place trophies to their showcases Saturday, and the result is renewed enthusiasm throughout what used to be known as the FSL — the Fremd Suburban League.

It's no secret that coach Ron Menely's Fremd Vikings are slightly "down" this year. The Vikes returned from the Forest City Invitational Saturday with second-place hardware, the first time in seven years they failed to win at Rockford.

Fremd juniors John Filosa and Dan Tischler ran second and seventh, but the rest of Menely's pack finished too far back to keep Rockford East — led by winner Dan Gilcrist — from gaining an easy team title.

So while the defending Mid-Suburban League champs are struggling, teams like Joe Johnson's Palatine Pirates and Jim Swift's Hoffman Hawks are rushing to the fore.

Palatine nipped Woodstock for first place at the unique Crystal Lake Invite, where equal weight is placed on freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior races. The Pirates won the soph race as Chuck Elliott, Tom Johnson, and John Dahlgren ran 1-2-4, and Palatine was third on each of the three remaining levels.

Tony Vargas was third in the junior race for the Pirates and Dave Horwath ran seventh among the seniors.

Hersey was fourth overall, paced by the excellent showing of the freshmen, who won with just 24 points. Rich Rieger was first and Steve Johnson was third for coach Larry Travis' Huskies.

Hoffman Estates successfully defended the title they won last year at the Limestone Invitational in Peoria, another "gimmick" meet. Running in seven separate races, Hawk harriers grabbed six firsts and one fifth place.

Dave Biddolph, Bill Joyce, Ken Krueger, Steve Lind, Kevin Rooney, and Dave Porzel were winners in flights one through six. Sam Cox, running in the toughest flight, finished fifth in 16:08 for 3.1 miles.

SPRINT OUT. Fremd's John Filosa covers lots of ground quickly on his way to a dual-meet victory at Union Oil. The Fremd junior, one of the top cross country runners in Illinois, ran second Saturday at the Forest City Invite.

"The results are pretty indicative of the way our team has been running lately," said Swift, whose Hawks are mentioned frequently as the successor to Fremd's perennial MSL title.

But then there's Prospect. The Knights of coach Joe Wanner captured first place in the hastily-planned Highland Park meet, which was moved from Waukegan due to a teachers' strike.

Prospect buried seven other teams as Bill Hrbek ran a close second to Niles West's Zoros. Each ran 14:58 for three miles. Juniors Matt Lawson and Jack Pittman ran fourth and sixth, and soph Mark Smith was 12th. Another sophomore, Dave Hayes, was 14th.

Arlington's cross country fortunes are also on the rise. The Cards were fifth in the 12-team Zion-Benton meet with 171 points as their top four ran just six seconds apart, led by soph Tom Tremblay.

Maine West was third at Z-B, with Warrior Brian Tolan finishing third over-all in 15:05.

Elk Grove took fifth at the Lane Tech Invite with 188 points, and Conant was 14th at Forest City.

Maine North was the victor at the Mustang Invite in Rolling Meadows as Mike Melvin (1st), Andy Sikorski (9th), and Mike Petykowski (10th) cracked the top 10. Rolling Meadows was seventh, paced by Tom Choice (12th), Brian Germano (16th), and Dave Gish (25th).

Record for Rick Sutton

If you had to rub your eyes twice Friday night, so did we when we incorrectly credited Rolling Meadows' No. 23 Terry Geegan with eight pass receptions in the Mustangs' 27-22 loss to Elk Grove.

Glue-fingered sprinter Rick Sutton, Rolling Meadows' "other" No. 23 on the program, turned in the record-breaking performance of eight catches for 114 yards.

Rick Sutton

Sutton shattered the Rolling Meadows school record for receptions, formerly held jointly by Glen Grunwald and Dick Blocki with six apiece.

Grunwald accomplished the feat twice — once against Lake Park and again versus Arlington during the 1974 campaign. Blocki also hauled down six during the Mustangs' 20-13 triumph over Arlington.

Sutton, a conference track dash champion, gathered in passes of 8, 50, 3, 7, 17, 8, 11 and 10 yards to eclipse the reception mark. The junior speedster is 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds.

Regis contains Buffalo Grove; Bison fall, 13-6

by KEITH REINHARD

For two periods they beat themselves.

After intermission, however, Regis put its punishing ground game to more profitable use, plowing a weary Buffalo Grove defense into the ground to take a 13-6 victory back to Iowa Saturday afternoon.

The Royals, a small parochial school headquartered in Cedar Rapids, did nothing dazzling en route to their third victory in as many outings this fall, but they never stopped coming at the Bison. And after a frustrating first half that had them trailing 6-0, the out-of-staters revved their running game into high gear.

Regis tallied once in each of the final two stanzas while the Royal defense was leaving the usually-explosive Grove attack completely stymied. The result was a defeat for the Bison, their first this season and only their second in the three seasons that coach Grant Blaney has been at the helm.

"It didn't surprise me that they were so good. We had them scouted," shrugged Blaney after the game. "They did one fine job of containing our offense while they were just wearing us down defenisvely. We never did really get untracked."

The Royals didn't get untracked either in the first half. That was partially their own fault and partially to the credit of Bison John MacIssac. The bruising 209-pound fullback-linebacker, recovered a fumble to thwart one Regis drive and came up with a key tackle on another.

MacIssac also rambled 61 yards to set up Buffalo Grove's only score of the day and subsequently took it in on two tries from inside the 10.

The guests launched their first long, sustained drive about midway through the opening quarter but spoiled their own threat with a costly 15-yard penalty after penetrating the BG 20.

In the second quarter the Royals marched again, to within eight yards of paydirt, but bobbled the ball twice and finally lost control on MacIssac's crucial tackle. On the very next play MacIssac broke loose on his 61-yard jaunt and seven plays later he dove across from the one.

Regis finally clicked on an extended march in the third quarter, going 59 yards in 13 plays to score. The following extra point kick gave them a 7-6 lead.

Later in the same quarter the guests were on their way again, rolling 44 yards in nine tries, helped along by a couple of penalties.

Buffalo Grove went to the air trying for the equalizer, but quarterback Dave Zimmer was offered weak protection and absorbed one loss after another during two fruitless offensive sets.

The Bison were worn out by then too. A number of offensive players had been on defense as well during 56 Regis rushing plays (to 29 for the hosts).

Final statistics had the Royals with no single gain of more than 18 yards but a lot of small ones that added up to a 227-43 edge in rushing and a 15-6 favorable reading in first downs.

Regis contains Buffalo Grove; Bison fall, 13-6

by KEITH REINHARD

For two periods they beat themselves.

After intermission, however, Regis put its punishing ground game to more profitable use, plowing a weary Buffalo Grove defense into the ground to take a 13-6 victory back to Iowa Saturday afternoon.

The Royals, a small parochial school headquartered in Cedar Rapids, did nothing dazzling en route to their third victory in as many outings this fall, but they never stopped coming at the Bison. And after a frustrating first half that had them trailing 6-0, the out-of-staters revved their running game into high gear.

Regis tallied once in each of the final two stanzas while the Royal defense was leaving the usually-explosive Grove attack completely stymied. The result was a defeat for the Bison, their first this season and only their second in the three seasons that coach Grant Blaney has been at the helm.

"It didn't surprise me that they were so good. We had them scouted," shrugged Blaney after the game. "They did one fine job of containing our offense while they were just wearing us down defenisvely. We never did really get untracked."

The Royals didn't get untracked either in the first half. That was partially their own fault and partially to the credit of Bison John MacIssac. The bruising 209-pound fullback-linebacker, recovered a fumble to thwart one Regis drive and came up with a key tackle on another.

MacIssac also rambled 61 yards to set up Buffalo Grove's only score of the day and subsequently took it in on two tries from inside the 10.

The guests launched their first long, sustained drive about midway through the opening quarter but spoiled their own threat with a costly 15-yard penalty after penetrating the BG 20.

In the second quarter the Royals marched again, to within eight yards of paydirt, but bobbled the ball twice and finally lost control on MacIssac's crucial tackle. On the very next play MacIssac broke loose on his 61-yard jaunt and seven plays later he dove across from the one.

Regis finally clicked on an extended march in the third quarter, going 59 yards in 13 plays to score. The following extra point kick gave them a 7-6 lead.

Later in the same quarter the guests were on their way again, rolling 44 yards in nine tries, helped along by a couple of penalties.

Buffalo Grove went to the air trying for the equalizer, but quarterback Dave Zimmer was offered weak protection and absorbed one loss after another during two fruitless offensive sets.

The Bison were worn out by then too. A number of offensive players had been on defense as well during 56 Regis rushing plays (to 29 for the hosts).

Final statistics had the Royals with no single gain of more than 18 yards but a lot of small ones that added up to a 227-43 edge in rushing and a 15-6 favorable reading in first downs.

Record for Rick Sutton

If you had to rub your eyes twice Friday night, so did we when we incorrectly credited Rolling Meadows' No. 23 Terry Geegan with eight pass receptions in the Mustangs' 27-22 loss to Elk Grove.

Glue-fingered sprinter Rick Sutton, Rolling Meadows' "other" No. 23 on the program, turned in the record-breaking performance of eight catches for 114 yards.

Rick Sutton

Sutton shattered the Rolling Meadows school record for receptions, formerly held jointly by Glen Grunwald and Dick Blocki with six apiece.

Grunwald accomplished the feat twice — once against Lake Park and again versus Arlington during the 1974 campaign. Blocki also hauled down six during the Mustangs' 20-13 triumph over Arlington.

Sutton, a conference track dash champion, gathered in passes of 8, 50, 3, 7, 17, 8, 11 and 10 yards to eclipse the reception mark. The junior speedster is 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds.

There may be an easier way to sell cars, but we don't know of a more satisfying one.

The doctor says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

This collapsed lung needs a patch

Recently I was hospitalized for eight days due to a collapsed lung. A tube was inserted into my chest to pump it back up, but for some reason it didn't work. So another one was inserted in the same place which didn't work either.

I was transferred to a cardiothoracic surgeon who inserted a tube from underneath my arm on the far side of my breast, and my lung was up by the next day. All they have told me is that lungs sometimes collapse for no reason, and that they don't know why the first two tubes didn't work.

Please give me some information about this. I still have pain in both lungs sometimes. I smoked for several years but quit a year ago. I can now tell anyone that if I can quit smoking anyone can. I will never smoke again. I hate even smelling cigarettes.

Yes, lungs sometimes collapse, about like a tire goes flat, and essentially for the same reason, because of a hole in the lung.

Your lungs are really a collection of small balloons all connected together filled with air. Usually a person with your problem has a small blister-like area at the upper tip of the lung. This blister breaks causing a hole in the lung and air leaks out of the lung into the space between the lungs and the chest wall.

Those little blisters are called blebs, and you may have been born with one or more. When one breaks the hole that results heals while the lung is collapsed. The lung is patched by nature. Then the air in the space between the lung and your chest wall is absorbed and the lung expands again. This would occur in time in most cases without inserting a tube to drain off the excess air outside the lung, but it takes a long time that way.

Why did the first two tubes through your chest wall not work? It is a good bet that the lung was not completely collapsed and part of the lung wrapped around the open end of the tube. When the tube was inserted higher where the lung was collapsed away from the chest wall, the open end of the tube was too far away from the lung for this to happen and it worked.

THE TUBE WORKS by allowing the air to be pushed out of the space between the lungs and chest wall as the lung expands. This speeds up the process enormously.

You may never have any more of these episodes but if you have a cluster of blebs (blisters) at the tip of your lungs, you could have one of them break again. When a person has several episodes and such a problem it is sometimes a good idea to remove the small area of the lung where the blebs are.

This episode does not mean you have serious lung disease or that it will shorten or otherwise affect your life. I agree you should not smoke and am against smoking for health reasons, but I'll have to tell you that your problem is probably unrelated to cigarettes.

The doctor says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

This collapsed lung needs a patch

Recently I was hospitalized for eight days due to a collapsed lung. A tube was inserted into my chest to pump it back up, but for some reason it didn't work. So another one was inserted in the same place which didn't work either.

I was transferred to a cardiothoracic surgeon who inserted a tube from underneath my arm on the far side of my breast, and my lung was up by the next day. All they have told me is that lungs sometimes collapse for no reason, and that they don't know why the first two tubes didn't work.

Please give me some information about this. I still have pain in both lungs sometimes. I smoked for several years but quit a year ago. I can now tell anyone that if I can quit smoking anyone can. I will never smoke again. I hate even smelling cigarettes.

Yes, lungs sometimes collapse, about like a tire goes flat, and essentially for the same reason, because of a hole in the lung.

Your lungs are really a collection of small balloons all connected together filled with air. Usually a person with your problem has a small blister-like area at the upper tip of the lung. This blister breaks causing a hole in the lung and air leaks out of the lung into the space between the lungs and the chest wall.

Those little blisters are called blebs, and you may have been born with one or more. When one breaks the hole that results heals while the lung is collapsed. The lung is patched by nature. Then the air in the space between the lung and your chest wall is absorbed and the lung expands again. This would occur in time in most cases without inserting a tube to drain off the excess air outside the lung, but it takes a long time that way.

Why did the first two tubes through your chest wall not work? It is a good bet that the lung was not completely collapsed and part of the lung wrapped around the open end of the tube. When the tube was inserted higher where the lung was collapsed away from the chest wall, the open end of the tube was too far away from the lung for this to happen and it worked.

THE TUBE WORKS by allowing the air to be pushed out of the space between the lungs and chest wall as the lung expands. This speeds up the process enormously.

You may never have any more of these episodes but if you have a cluster of blebs (blisters) at the tip of your lungs, you could have one of them break again. When a person has several episodes and such a problem it is sometimes a good idea to remove the small area of the lung where the blebs are.

This episode does not mean you have serious lung disease or that it will shorten or otherwise affect your life. I agree you should not smoke and am against smoking for health reasons, but I'll have to tell you that your problem is probably unrelated to cigarettes.

Fashion at Large

Focus on full figures

by KAREN THOMPSON

Dorothy Robins was a lady with a problem. But, by solving her own dilemma, she is helping hundreds of other full-figured women find answers to their clothing woes.

Fashion at Large, opened just seven weeks ago in Hoffman Plaza, devotes its entire stock of separates, dresses, gowns and coats to the large sized woman — waist size 30 to 46 and tops 38 to 52.

Dorothy, the owner of the store, describes it as "very exciting" because she knows first hand the problems of other large women. "I felt this would be the perfect shop idea for me because I can really relate to these women," she said.

Such brands as Ample Togs, Added Dimension and Stout fill the racks of Fashion at Large. "We scouted the area for similar shops and found only one," said Dorothy. "I knew from experience that if I didn't get to that particular store the day a new shipment arrived I wouldn't be likely to find anything. It gets picked over so fast."

SIZING IS A problem for large women. "Once we leave the 8 to 18 size range, we get into a very confusing area because standard sizing has never been set," Dorothy explained.

"If a woman is short, under 5 feet 5 inches, and heavy, she usually wears a half-size dress. But what size blouse or skirt would she wear? What size pants?"

There is also a wide variance in fuller figures, Dorothy said. "Some are large from the waist up, others from the waist down." For this reason, the clothes at Fashion at Large are sold as separates. "A handy tape measure will usually solve the problem," she said.

Crediting the draping qualities of new polyester and double knit fabrics, Dorothy said women now get a softer line which is especially becoming to the full figure.

RESPONSE TO THE new store has been overwhelming, continued Mrs. Robins. "The ladies who come in here are thrilled to death that they can find both fashion and a good fit. They often call to inform us that after years, they are finally getting compliments on their appearance."

According to Mrs. Robins, selling to women with a fuller figure, both young and old, is an art in itself. She sees them drive up and peer into the shop looking over the clerks to see if they, too, have a weight problem. "For that reason I have all full-figured women on my staff. It puts the customer more at ease," she said.

"Larger women are often conservative in thought as well as dress. They are reluctant to try new styles and new colors, preferring to stick with dark shades instead," the store proprietor said.

She remembers a lady who walked into the store a few weeks ago and confessed that she had worn nothing but navy, black and brown for the past seven years. "You can bet we encouraged her to break that habit," said Mrs. Robins. "Once these fears are overcome by a thoughtful sales person, the customers return for fashion advice."

THERE IS NO lack of variety in color and style at Fashion at Large. From the long evening gown in Oriental black with blue humming birds, to the prewashed denim jumpers and pants suits with muslin blouses to match, there is plenty for all tastes — all ages. The store has a complete line of fashions for younger women.

Mrs. Robins buys from more than 28 different clothing manufacturers from Boston to California. Prices are moderate. "At the present time we are investigating the possibility of expanding our line to include jewelry and rainwear, said Dorothy. "We will expand as the community lets us know their wants and wishes."

Dress to look a bit slimmer

by GAY PAULEY

The sensible way to look thin is to lose the excess baggage. But that takes time, willpower and a physical fitness program.

Some persons on the heavier side, and resigned to it, would prefer an easier route — dressing to give the illusion of thinness. The French have a phrase for such illusion — trompe l'oeil.

In dressing to look slimmer, there are two basic rules, says one authority. One is to gain as much height as possible, and the other is to "remove" the heavier parts of you by judicious selection of fabrics and silhouettes. "You will shed pounds in minutes" is the promise.

Wear clothes that hug the largest part of the body but not tightly, such as A-line skirts and dresses, blouses that do not have excess material on the sides and slightly flared skirts.

TRY FOR A smooth line from shoulder to hem — a simple and uncluttered look. Select softly woven fabrics such as silks and jerseys. Medium to dark-toned hosiery is slimming. So are V-necklines, if you want to lengthen appearance of face and neck.

Hair styles that give a little height add to a total look of thinner, says Oleda Baker, beauty editor of a new monthly magazine aimed primarily for mannequins, Model's Circle.

But the tips are good for anyone who, as the publication says, wants "to be beautiful."

More do's: Wear hemlines that fall just below the knee or almost to the floor (evening). If wearing pants, they should cover most of the shoe. Wear vertically designed when not able to use a vertical pattern. You're better off with subdued to medium colors.

LONG NARROW lapels on blouses, jackets and coats make you appear smaller.

Some fashions to avoid: Flat shoes and flat hair styles, but don't go overboard on hair height or you will appear "head heavy."

Avoid horizontal stripes, large patterns, plaids, gathers, pleats and large patch pockets. all of which add width to hips and bust.

Avoid white or light solid-color clothing. This gives the illusion of more size. Avoid accessories such as belts and sashes; they tend to cut your height and make you appear heavier. Avoid hems above the knee — the longer and more continued the flow of a skirt, the more height you gain.

STEER AWAY from rough-textured fabrics such as tweeds, bulky wools, shiny fabrics. Turtlenecks are for the skinny only; then cut length of neck and make the body seem bulkier.

Topcoats which are double-breasted or with wide lapels add width and decrease height. Avoid slim, tight, or straight skirts.

After Ms. Baker told the plumpish (a model plumpish?) how to look slimmer, she turned around in another issue to tell thinnies "how to gain 10 pounds in 10 minutes."

She's right on target when she says, "The too-thin figure is almost a fun problem to solve. You can wear clothing that many women would love to be able to wear — bright colors, plaids, soft knits . . . the layered look . . . pants with no pockets . . . wide belts and sashes . . . bulky sweaters below the waistline . . ."

The "how to gain" goes on, but around where I live and work, the "how to lose" gets the readership.

STEER AWAY from rough-textured fabrics such as tweeds, bulky wools, shiny fabrics. Turtlenecks are for the skinny only; then cut length of neck and make the body seem bulkier.

Topcoats which are double-breasted or with wide lapels add width and decrease height. Avoid slim, tight, or straight skirts.

After Ms. Baker told the plumpish (a model plumpish?) how to look slimmer, she turned around in another issue to tell thinnies "how to gain 10 pounds in 10 minutes."

She's right on target when she says, "The too-thin figure is almost a fun problem to solve. You can wear clothing that many women would love to be able to wear — bright colors, plaids, soft knits . . . the layered look . . . pants with no pockets . . . wide belts and sashes . . . bulky sweaters below the waistline . . ."

The "how to gain" goes on, but around where I live and work, the "how to lose" gets the readership.

CORRECT FIT is the slogan for Fashion at Large. Mrs. Dorothy Robins, far left, personally supervises the fitting of Jackie Clontz's long gown hand-painted and signed in Hawaii. Right, Elaine Howe models a dress by Happy Talk, also painted in Hawaii with a vertical line of Chinese characters.

ACTOR FORREST TUCKER was the gentleman of the hour last Thursday when he joined 720 women at Allgauer's for the annual fall luncheon and fashion show staged by Northwest Community Hospital Auxiliary. Before lunch he chatted on the patio with Pat Mottweiler, assistant chairman, Corky Patberg, chairman and Katie Casidy, committee member. Fahions were from Comack Shannon.

Deaths down

America's death rate has been declining over the past 20 years, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

The mortality rate was 6.9 deaths per thousand in the United States in 1973, down from 7.6 per thousand in 1963, and 8 per thousand in 1953.

Mankind has advanced life expectancy enormously since antiquity. An infant born in imperial Rome about 2,000 years ago could expect to live to 22 years. By 1850, an American child's life expectancy had advanced to 40 years, and today, it is 71.1 years.

Fashion should suit the individual

"Shop alone and let the experts guide you" was the advice of Cathi Watson as she commentated fashions from Comak Shannon last Thursday for Northwest Community Hospital Woman's Auxiliary.

She urged women to wear whatever looks best on them and to make fashion work for them as individuals. "What looks right on a personal basis is what fashion is all about."

"Designers, this year like us" she added, explaining that fashion has swung from the outlandish to the outstanding.

Runway ensembles for the auxiliary's annual fall fashion show and luncheon held at Allgauer's included all the classics and pointed up the return of everything — longer and fuller skirts, soft-bodied dresses and slim but comfortable outfits.

ALTHOUGH THE dress has definitely returned to the fashion scene, pants continue to be as popular as ever. A number of strictly tailored pant suits in camel or grey flannel, with blazers, assured the audience that trouser outfits will continue to be a fashion standby.

Pea coats of the '40s are back, but less bulky. Boots are less fitted. Sweaters are cowled or hooded.

Evenings gowns were "sensuous" with a red velveteen jumper over an egg shell satin blouse vying with glitters and feather puffs for the oohs and ahs. Especially beautiful were a pearl poncho and a gold beaded one to wear over sexy bronze or black.

Theater party benefits hospital

A theater dinner party to benefit Holy Family Hospital will be held Sunday, Oct. 12, at Drury Lane North in the Marriott Hotel in Lincolnshire. Reservations deadline is this Thursday.

Sponsored by the hospital's auxiliary, the public is invited to the play featuring Forrest tucker and dinner to follow at 5:30 p.m. Tickets are $16 and are available from Mrs. Robert Novy, 392-4679. Bus transportation, leaving from the hospital parking lot at 1:45 p.m. and returning at 7 p.m. is available for $2.

Proceeds will help the hospital purchase the latest equipment for detecting breast cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kyle

Newlyweds Ruth Carlberg, John Kyle in Bloomington

A newly married Wheeling couple are making their home in Bloomington, Ill., while the groom completes his senior year at Illinois Wesleyan University.

The bride is the former Ruth Anne Carlberg, daughter of the E. L. Carlbergs, and her bridegroom is John W. Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Turpin. Both Ruth and John are Wheeling High School graduates, and she also graduated from Augustana Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago. She is now working at Brokow Hospital in Normal.

The pair were married at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 24 in the Community Presbyterian Church, Wheeling, with a reception following at the Millionaires Club.

FOR THE double ring, candlelight rites the bride wore a white organza gown accented with Venise lace and a lace cap with a short bouffant veil also edged in lace. Her bouquet was of white roses and baby's breath.

Mary Lou Carlberg was her sister's maid of honor in a medium blue jersey gown trimmed with white daisies and complimented by a hooded jacket. She carried white and blue carnations with Shasta daisies and baby's breath.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wheeling, Debra Niemeyer, Carpentersville, and Alethea Fidone, Chicago, were bridesmaids.

Their ensembles were identical to the maid of honor's but in a lighter shade of blue.

Jeff Jones, Champaign, was John's best man, with Al and James Kyle, his brothers, as ushers. Groomsmen were Trey Neher, Lisle, Glenn Meier, Wheeling, and Ted Teschner from Florida.

The newlyweds spent a week in Jamaica before leaving for Bloomington.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kyle

Newlyweds Ruth Carlberg, John Kyle in Bloomington

A newly married Wheeling couple are making their home in Bloomington, Ill., while the groom completes his senior year at Illinois Wesleyan University.

The bride is the former Ruth Anne Carlberg, daughter of the E. L. Carlbergs, and her bridegroom is John W. Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Turpin. Both Ruth and John are Wheeling High School graduates, and she also graduated from Augustana Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago. She is now working at Brokow Hospital in Normal.

The pair were married at 3:30 p.m. Aug. 24 in the Community Presbyterian Church, Wheeling, with a reception following at the Millionaires Club.

FOR THE double ring, candlelight rites the bride wore a white organza gown accented with Venise lace and a lace cap with a short bouffant veil also edged in lace. Her bouquet was of white roses and baby's breath.

Mary Lou Carlberg was her sister's maid of honor in a medium blue jersey gown trimmed with white daisies and complimented by a hooded jacket. She carried white and blue carnations with Shasta daisies and baby's breath.

Elizabeth Carlson, Wheeling, Debra Niemeyer, Carpentersville, and Alethea Fidone, Chicago, were bridesmaids.

Their ensembles were identical to the maid of honor's but in a lighter shade of blue.

Jeff Jones, Champaign, was John's best man, with Al and James Kyle, his brothers, as ushers. Groomsmen were Trey Neher, Lisle, Glenn Meier, Wheeling, and Ted Teschner from Florida.

The newlyweds spent a week in Jamaica before leaving for Bloomington.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Cordova

Their reception on Hackney's patio

An outdoor reception on the patio of Hackney's, Lake Zurich, followed the Aug. 23 wedding of Cynthia Gaye Lapham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lapham, Arlington Heights, and Randy Martin Cordova, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cordova, also of Arlington Heights.

For the double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, the bride wore a gown of white nylon organza trimmed in daisy appliques of Venise lace. Her veil was chapel length and she carried pompons, ivy, yellow tea roses and baby's breath.

Cindy chose her sister, Robin, as maid of honor. Deonn Heath, Vernon Hills, Coreen Cordova, the groom's sister from San Francisco, Vicki Mainzer, Buffalo Grove, and Marilyn Dexter, Downers Grove, served as bridesmaids. All wore yellow voile gowns with capelet collars and carried pompons, white tea roses and baby's breath.

Also in yellow was Katie Masterson, Northbrook, flower girl.

Randy was attended by Matt DeFano, Valparaiso, Ind., as best man. Ushers were Chuck Olson, San Diego, Calif., Rick Peekel, Palatine, Brad Schwichtenberg, Minneapolis, Minn., and Dean Sheridan, Wheeling.

The newlyweds honeymooned for a week in Jamaica and are now at home in an Arlington Heights apartment.

Cindy graduated from Harper College with a degree in dental hygiene and is employed by an Arlington Heights dentist. Randy, a 1969 Prospect High School graduate, earned a degree from the University of Illinois. He works for Hobart Corp., Chicago.

Pair residing in Amsterdam, Holland

Amsterdan, Holland, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hirons, following their Aug. 24 wedding at St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz, N.Y.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Hirons, Arlington Heights.

The former Caren Carnesi, daughter of the George P. Carnesis, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., wore for her wedding an ivory silk satin gown trimmed in reembroidered lace from Lago Di Como, Italy, seed pearls and crystals. A matching lace headpiece held her veil and she carried a cascade of roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Joan Stassi, the bride's cousin from Rockford, appeared as maid of honor in an ivory gown and matching picture hat adorned with a brown rose and tulle. She carried a cascade of mums, roses, baby's breath and eucalyptus.

BRIDESMAIDS, attired identically to the maid of honor, were Ann Felter, the bride's cousin from Syosset, N.Y.; Debra Crookston, Tillson, N.Y.; Mrs. Rocco Dawson, the groom's sister from Deerfield; and Mrs. John Druchunas, Oyster Bay, N.Y.

Laura Carnesi, 6, the bride's cousin from East Norwich, N.Y., was flower girl, dressed in ivory and wearing a wreath of flowers in her hair. J. David Felter, 6, another of the bride's cousins from Syosset, was ring bearer.

Gerald chose as best man his brother Michael of Missouri. Ushers were George Carnesi Jr., the bride's brother, Thomas Carnesi, the bride's uncle from East Norwich, N.Y., Joseph Rodgers of West Hurley, N.Y., and William Denten, the groom's cousin from Hoffman Estates.

FOLLOWING a dinner at The Hedges in West Park, N.Y., the newlyweds left on a two-week honeymoon to Ireland and England.

Caren attended Emerson College, Boston, and was an assistant manager of Mack Drug Co. in Poughkeepsie until her marriage.

Gerald graduated from Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and received a master's degree in math from the University of Illinois. He is on assignment in Amsterdam with IBM Corp., Kingston, N.Y.

Trees join house plants

Few fashions have caught on in American households as much as house plants. This has led naturally to a growing interest in house trees. Since this is a luxury appendage, one can fully expect that books on the subject are not inexpensive, either. Even so, a good book is cheaper than getting in a tree doctor.

"Indoor Trees," by Jack Kramer (Hawthorn, $9.95), is an ideal all-purpose book. Kramer makes the point that indoor trees have become as important as pieces of furniture. He covers the field with expert touch and one of the best sections is on recognizing ailments. He's even up with remedies that sidestep the use of chemicals. His book is elegantly illustrated — both with photos and illustrations. For those who've gone indoor tree-happy, I recommend this little book without hesitation.

Dear Dorothy: Your advice about getting the lipstick stain out of the washable summer dress by putting the dress face down on a white towel and sponging from the back was so true, but you didn't explain why. The why pertains to other stains, too. The stains have been "applied" to the right side of the material so should be "driven out" from back. Sponging the right side can remove part of the stain, but can drive part of it even deeper into the material. — Marian Johnson

Dear Dorothy: I use a recipe for chicken breasts that my family loves, but I have a dreadful time making them thin enough to work with. The rolling pin doesn't work too well. Can I use something else? — Avery Patterson

The rolling pin will work if you use it differently. Cover the breasts with waxed paper and "bop" them with the rolling pin. It not only thins them, but breaks down the tissues and fibers and makes the meat beautifully tender.
